Renewal Program To Continue

Council Decides At Special Session

By HENRY CANTIN

ROMULUS — Romulus City Council has approved continuance of its Community Development and Renewal Program approved by the Old Township Board in 1965.

The decision to do so was made at a special emergency council session called by Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael and held last Thursday.

A resolution in which the city of Romulus guarantees its faith and credit to the completion of the Community Development's first project was approved by a vote of six to one. Councilman James C. Stewart voted against the resolution.

The first project is the city's initial Urban Renewal Program.

Romulus, through its local Urban Renewal Director, George Wilhelm, requested financial assistance under Title I of the federal Housing Act enforced by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development, some time ago.

The Wayne-Beverly Rds. Renewal Project, involving 575 acres of land, has already been initiated.

An application for funds for the first phase, or 170 acres of the 575 acres, has been filed with the Chicago Office of HUD.

The federal government has already committed the sum of $3.5 million to the community development program and has promised additional funds as the school district's construction program gets underway.

Last Thursday's resolution rescinded one approved by a 4 to 3 vote at the council meeting held July 28.

In the earlier resolution, the council pledged its full faith and credit to the completion of the program and would, if the need should arise — namely the failure of the school bond issue to pass — provide adequate funds from the sale of Rehabilitation Bonds or whatever other sources seem advisable at the time for the required Local Grants-In-Aid to assure the project completion.

The final resolution adopted at the emergency session eliminates "full" faith and credit, as it was reported that city officials felt that it meant a "blank check."

The final resolution also provided that the project's completion is subject to approval of the final contract by city council.

Wilhelm reported that the city's job in the initial program is the paving of streets, laying of sidewalks and storm drain, and re-plating 60-foot lots.

He stated that property in this initial phase (Urban Renewal) would be sold to private developers. It is expected that close to $10 million would be spent for housing and commercial enterprises thus bringing tax dollars to the city.

Property assessments in the area would be increased 10 times when the program is completed, he stated.

The total Community Development and Renewal Program is a 15-year project. It involves practically all older residential and commercial areas in the city.

Residents Search For Missing Plane

ROMULUS — City residents were among those participating in a recent search for an airplane, missing on a flight between Detroit and Richmond.

Lt. Edmund Dezomitis of the Metropolitan Emergency Service Senior Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol, and his wife represented the Romulus area.

Dezomitis reported that the base of operations was the Detroit City Airport, the airport where the flight originated.

Dezomitis said that whenever a small plane is lost, volunteers from the Civil Air Patrol lend assistance to the officials on the search.

Grant Aids Repairs On Airport Runway

ROMULUS — The first grant under the recent Federal Airport Development Aid Program has been awarded to Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport for the reconstruction of its main instrument runway.

The 10,500 foot runway, built 25 years ago, will be rebuilt in two phases. The first step is estimated to cost $4,470,000. The Federal grant provided $2,235,000 of this amount with the remainder divided between the airport and the Michigan Aeronautics Commission.

construction will begin immediately and take about 60 days. He said the new runway will provide new center-line lighting and all the modern navigational aids.

With the closing of the main, northeast, southwest runway, commercial carriers and general aviation will use the 8,700 foot east-west instrument runway and the 8,500 three-right runway. Some long term non-stop flight schedules may be affected.

The contract for the work was let Friday, July 31, to the Thompson McCully Asphalt Paving Company of Belleville and the Ann Arbor Construction Company as a joint venture and work will be started Monday.

Kreger said that both Federal and State agencies recognized the urgent need for the work and it was scheduled as first priority under the Airport Development Aid Program which went into effect July 1.

Democrats Meet To Discuss Merger

ROMULUS — A meeting of the two existing Democratic clubs in Romulus was held last Wednesday night at the home of Jack H. Trumble, located at 28305 Goddard Rd.

Trumble is president of the Democratic Club of Romulus. The recently formed new Democratic group is the Democratic Club of the City of Romulus.

At the meeting a combined 10-man committee representing both clubs discussed a possible merger. It appeared that the majority of the committee would like the same program — that is to bring the Democrats of the city together again.

Agreement was reached on most issues, such as a revision of the by-laws of both clubs and then to take the best of each and combine the ideas of the two clubs, Trumble reported.

The five members of the Democratic Club of the City of Romulus are Charles Kline, Fred Williams, Diane Boger, Robert Plank and David Mann.

The five members of the Democratic Club of Romulus are as follows: Jack Trumble, president; Joseph Saval, Al Lucke, Mrs. Mickie LoPota and John Lewkowicz.

Results of the meeting will be presented to the membership of both clubs for their decision on proposed merger of the clubs.

"There are so many issues that the citizens of our city will be facing. We cannot work separately, but with everyone pitching in we can work for better government and the betterment of our community, state and country. We cannot stick our heads in the sand and expect the problems to right themselves.

"If everyone does one small part to help his community, it will not be left to just a select few. We have a whole lot to lose, our homes, our freedom, our families, if we just throw up our hands and leave it to the next guy," said Trumble.

The next meeting of the Democratic Club of Romulus' membership will be announced later.

A meeting of the executive board will be held today, Aug. 5.

Jaycees Give Special Awards

ROMULUS — The Romulus Jaycees held their annual Inaugural Banquet recently at Metro Inn, located at 8600 Merriman Rd.

SWIMMING MEET OFFICIALS — Preparing for the Age Group Swimming Meet to be held at Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville on Aug. 4 and 5 are these officials. They are Richard Egner, pool manager at the park, and Mrs. Sally Prior, meet director. Several hundred youngsters are expected to compete in the 10th annual swimming meet.

Romulus District, REA Agree To Mediation

ROMULUS — Contract negotiating teams representing the Romulus Community School District and the Romulus Education Association have agreed to submit their differences on a 1970-71 teacher contract to mediation.

The statement in current contract negotiations was announced last Thursday by Assistant Superintendent of Schools, William Jakad, chief negotiator for the school district.

Date of the beginning of sessions before a State Labor Board Mediator will be scheduled by the State Labor Board. An official request for mediation has been filed with the state agency, Jakad said.

Negotiations on a new 1970-71 teacher contract began last April. The present contract expires on Aug. 15, 1970.

Local 64, of Council 23 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, representing maintenance, clerical, custodial, transportation and cafeteria personnel has also presented its requests for salary and fringe benefits to the school board.

The local holds a three-year contract with the school board which provides for salary and benefits to be reconsidered each year.

Riders Make Final Plans For Fair

ROMULUS — Final preparations for participation in the Annual Wayne County 4-H Fair by members of the Romulus Western Riders 4-H Club have been completed.

A meeting to make final plans was held last Thursday at the home of Club Leaders, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Hay, on S. Huron River Dr.

The 4-H'ers invite everyone to come to the 4-H Fair, Tuesday, Aug. 18, through M Sunday, Aug. 23 at the Hannan Road Elementary School, 18955 Hannan Rd.

Previously the school board met on the first and third Monday of each month at the Huron High School.

Admission is free but there is a parking fee for cars on the grounds.

Export Program Wins U.S. Praise

ROMULUS — Kerr Manufacturing Company, one of the world's largest manufacturers of dental instruments, supplies and equipment, has been selected for a "Presidential 'E' Award" by the United States Department of Commerce.

Presentation of the coveted award will be made on Monday, Aug. 10, at 10 a.m. at the firm's headquarters, located at 28200 Wick Rd., one-half mile east of Middlebelt Rd.

The award is being presented for the company's "outstanding contributions to international understanding through its expanded export program," Richard Enright, vice president of industrial relations, reported.

A long list of distinguished guests and local government officials are scheduled to attend the front-lawn ceremonies.

Vote Totals Next Week

Complete and detailed election returns on the Aug. 4 general primary election will be published in next week's issue of this newspaper.

Tabulation of vote totals on the various issues and on the numerous candidates seeking office on local, state and national levels began long after our publication deadline making even partial returns unavailable to us in time to meet our press run.

Family Planning Set For Huron, Romulus

ELOISE — Family Planning Services will soon be delivered to hundreds of women to six Out-County Wayne Communities including: Ecorse, Wyandotte, Brownstown, Huron, Romulus and Canton Township.

A Mobile Family Planning Unit sponsored by the Wayne County Office of Economic Opportunity will begin its operation in mid-August, bringing family planning services closer to the people who live in isolated communities unable to utilize existing family planning facilities, due to lack of transportation.

Services provided, other than educational, will be to only those patients who voluntarily request medical supervision of supplies, and who meet the income eligibility established for poverty areas served by

Wayne County OEO Neighborhood Action Centers.

A concentrated education program on health and family planning methods has been conducted in the six communities, and will continue as an on-going phase of the Family Planning Program.

All contraceptive methods offered are approved by the Federal Food and Drug Administration, and are free without charge. Other services offered are blood test for anemia, blood pressure test, pap test for cancer, physical examination, medical counseling and referral services.

The Mobile Clinic will be operated by a full-time medical professional staff experienced in the field of family planning.

Clinic dates are slated for Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays on a weekly basis at the following locations:

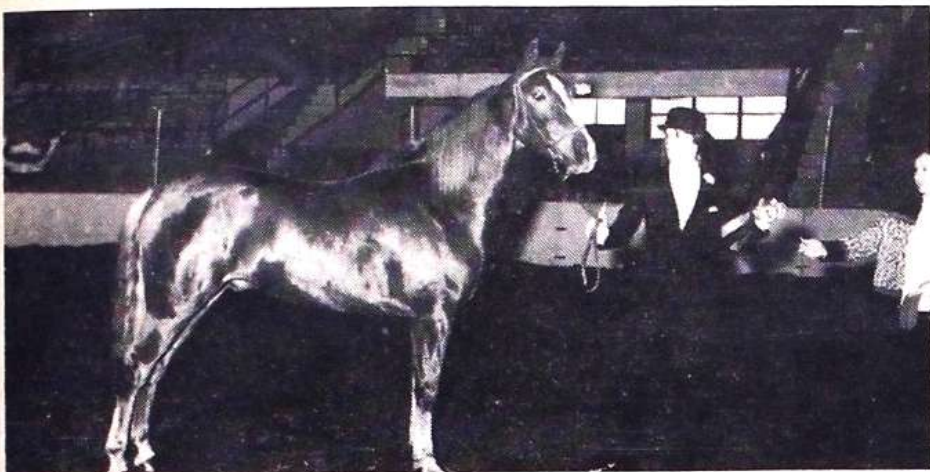

MONDAY — Canton Mobile Trailer Court, 41275 Michigan Ave., Wayne.

TUESDAY — Ecorse Neighborhood Action Center, 421 Salliotte St., Ecorse.

THURSDAY — Huron Elementary School, 24820 Merriman Rd., New Boston.

FRIDAY — Romulus Neighborhood Action Center, 35351 Beverly Rd., Wayne

For clinic appointments of for additional information, write Mrs. JoAnn Tolliver, director, Wayne County Office of Economic Opportunity Family Planning Project, Building "C", Eloise, Michigan 48130 or call 722-2410 or 722-2411.

FIRST PLACE WINNER — Karen Berg of Belleville and her registered Morgan "Bannie's Country Kid" won first place at the Detroit Junior Livestock Show. Karen and her horse will be competing at the Northville County Fair Horse Show, Aug. 8, at the Northville Downs Race Track.

Van Buren Schools Hire Sixty New Teachers

BELLEVILLE — Raymond W. Kohe, director of curriculum and instruction for the Van Buren School District, this week released the names of new education personnel for the coming year.

Kohr reported that 60 new teachers have been hired by the District, with three positions yet to be filled. These teachers will replace the 46 teachers who have left the District, plus fill new positions at the new junior high school.

He said that for the coming year the District will employ 359 certified educators. Of this number, 18 will be administrators, 80 will be in the high school, 83 will be in the two junior highs and 178 will be in the elementary classrooms.

This is an increase over the year just ending; Kohr said that during the 1969-70 school year there were 335½ certified educators.

He broke this figure down into 174 elementary teaching positions, 46½ junior high positions, 99½ senior high positions, and 16½ administrative positions.

New teachers at the Belleville High School include Lloyd Carr, social studies; Keith Emerson, physical education; James Harvey, vocational welding; Jerome Johnson, auto mechanics; I. oberta Reeves, home economics; Donald Stabinaw, auto body repairs; Donald Uchman, industrial arts.

Joining the staff at North Junior High are Mary Bielawski, physical education; June Clater, music; William Emerson, social studies; Albert Griffith, business education; Linda Guckes, english; Homer Hinchliff, industrial arts; Wendy Johnson, home economics; Harriet McKenzie, english and social studies; Carol O'Neil, math; and Elizabeth Spaulding, english and social studies.

Additions to the South Junior High Staff are Barbara Dahne, math and science; Carol Drayton, and Dina Dryer, both english and social studies; Foster Eid, special education; Georgina Fries, english and business education; JoAnn Gillen, music; Myles Mazur, music; Joan Marston and Jill McElroy, math and science; Linda Moothart, english and social studies; Vincent Peltier, industrial arts; Bonnie Prouty, arts and crafts; Wayne Salow, english and social studies; Patricia Schmidt, library; Wendy Squelch, and Muriel Wolfe, both math and science; and Lynda Wallace, physical education.

Motorboat Registration Passes 400,000 Mark

There are about 400,000 registered motorboats in Michigan, but the prediction of the first 500,000 registration cycle appears to be close to reality.

Secretary of State James M. Hare disclosed that as of June 30, his department had registered more than 380,000 motorboats and that the 400,000 mark will be realized before the end of July.

The current three-year registration is in its second year, Hare said. Motorboats may be registered at any branch office of the Secretary of State. Registration fee, good through 1971, is $5.

Top previous totals were 437,000 at the close of the last registration period in 1968. Hare said that that number could well be exceeded during the current boating year.

"There is no doubt that there are about a half-million motorboats in this state," said Hare. "Getting them all registered, however, is another matter.

"All boats with motors, whether they are 75-foot luxury yachts or small rowboats which have motors, must be registered and numbered."

Enforcement of the motorboat registration law, notes Hare, is mainly the job of sheriff departments.

Reportedly, sheriff patrols in 78 counties are actively engaged in the enforcement of the motorboat registration law and have patrol boats in their waterways.

Award CAP Cadets After Encampment

WAYNE — Four local teen-agers, members of the Wayne-Romulus Cadet Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol (CAP) were presented with trophies to mark outstanding performance at the recently concluded CAP Summer Encampment.

The encampment, a one-week period of intense training in such subjects as control tower operation, fighter tactics, intelligence operations, meteorology, search and rescue, and leadership was held at the Phelps-Collins Air National Guard Base at Alpena, Mich. More than 200 CAP Cadets from across the state attended.

Cadet Staff Sergeant Ronald Kennedy, 15, of 32312 Fairchild in Westland, was awarded a trophy as the most outstanding Cadet in his entire Squadron, a unit of 60 to 70 Cadets.

Cadet Airman Shirley Cantrell, 15, of 26050 Beverly in Taylor, and Cadet Captain Carol Chesney, 18, of 25180 West Road in Flat Rock both received their trophies for being members of the Honor Flight, a unit of 20 to 30 Cadets selected as most outstanding during the encampment. Cadet Captain Chesney served as deputy commander of the flight.

Top honors went to Cadet

Lieutenant Colonel JoAnn Brazer, 17, of 109 Glen in Ann Arbor. Cadet Brazer served as Squadron commander during the encampment. From the Headquarters of Michigan Wing, Civil Air Patrol, she received a trophy as the most outstanding female cadet of the encampment. A second trophy for her came from the group of United States Air Force advisors attached to the training staff, and was awarded to the most outstanding cadet of the encampment.

The advisors were so certain that a male cadet would win the trophy that it was purposely topped with a male victory figure. Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Brazer declined to let the embarrassed Air Force Officers change the figure and is keeping the trophy as is.

These honors reflect the excellent training which is available to teenagers 13 years or older as Cadet members of the Civil Air Patrol. The Wayne-Romulus Cadet Squadron meets every Wednesday evening between 7:00 and 9:30 at Romulus Junior High School, 11401 Olive Street in Romulus.

Accompanying the commission was the following letter from Governor Nunn:

"Dear Colonel Glenn: It is my distinct privilege to commission you a Kentucky Colonel. This commission is an honor to be proudly displayed as a symbol of your interest and dedication to Kentucky. I hope your appreciation of Kentucky and its many fine attributes will continue to grow."

Glenn received his commission after it became known that he formed a Kentucky corporation of "Glenn Crest Estates, Inc." and had acquired two thousand acres of land in Northwestern Greenup

New Boston Man Is Kentucky Colonel

NEW BOSTON — E. Clifford Glenn, 37222 Huron Dr., a real estate broker and vice-president of Astro Realty Company of New Boston, was recently commissioned Kentucky Colonel by Kentucky Governor Louie B. Nunn.

The commission reads "Commonwealth of Kentucky — Louie B. Nunn Governor — To all to whom These Presents Shall Come, Greeting: Know Ye That Honorable E. Clifford Glenn, New Boston, Michigan is Commissioned A Kentucky Colonel — I hereby confer this honor with all the rights privileges and responsibilities thereunto appertaining.

"In testimony whereof, I have caused these letters to be made patent and the seal of the Commonwealth to be hereunto affixed. Done at Frankfort the 5th day of June in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and seventy and in the one hundred and seventy-eighth year of the Commonwealth By the Governor Louie B. Nunn and Elmer Begley, secretary of state."

County of Kentucky for the purpose of developing a retirement and recreation village.

Glenn said it all started when he purchased a farm that was the same that his grandfather, W. W. Glenn, purchased in 1894 when the Glenn family moved there from Adams County, Ohio.

As Vice-President and General Manager of Astro Realty Company, Glenn noted that about one third of the homes his company sells are for couples retiring with many of them inquiring as to retirement sites.

"We have checked with all the builders of modular housing," Glenn stated, "and have suppliers narrowed down to two or three. We believe we will be able to set them in on half acre lots and keep the price in the $16,000 range.

A camper trailer park, golf course and custom homes are also in the planning stages for the development.

Acquisition of the land has just been completed and construction should begin in early spring or even the possibility of late fall. The time element now hinges on the surveys and engineers.

Juveniles May Be Cause Of Train's Near Accident

ROMULUS — Juveniles believed to be responsible for tampering with a switch box on a Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad switching track, located between Ecorse and Van Born Rds., are under investigation of "sabotage of railroad property," Sgt. Robert Taylor of the Romulus Police Department disclosed.

A C and O freight train traveling westbound "nearly" ran through a part of the GM Diesel Plant, located on Van Born Rd., police reported.

The train's engineer noted that the signal, operating in conjunction with the switching mechanism, was not in his favor as it should have been. He managed to halt the freight train and thus avoid serious property damage.

Patrolman Robert Kahl reported that the switch was found opened. His investigation led to the arrest of juveniles who will be referred to Wayne County Juvenile authorities for prosecution.

Police investigation is continuing as officers believe that others are involved.

No better time for a quick inventory of natural resources and a hasty trial balance than right now.

A new generation of fish, fowl and game animals is striving for survival.

Every advance in the management of natural resources is preceded by complaints, agitation, talk.

There has been widespread alarm about pesticides.

Director Ball of the Michigan Department of Agriculture has issued orders fixing the percentage of DDT that will be permitted in fish sold in the state. After tolerance levels are announced, public hearings will be held before official rules are laid down.

combating this phase of pollution.

What Michigan is doing to preserve environmental quality is part of a national movement to protect all people from the greed of some people. Cornel Wilde is producing a film for M.G.M. entitled "No Blade of Grass" to treat dramatically the potential horrors of pollution which Wilde fears is so far advanced that it may be hopeless. Others have expressed the fear that man may be destroying his own habitat, making of the good earth a death trap.

Actually, a spring forecast gives proof that the worst is not due to happen.

Fringe benefits of a quality environment are sport fishing and the harvesting of game. Research is being carried on into mercury contamination in Michigan ducks and pheasants. With a good supply of pheasant in sight for next fall, pheasants from 21 counties were found to carry quantities of mercury well below the level determined by federal authorities.

There is even promise in the continuing debate about deer harvesting. Those who are enraged by the inclusion of does in the annual quota of hunter kills may not understand basic biology, but they certainly are concerned.

Like other functions of a democratic government, the administration of natural resources needs public support. We can be undismayed by the prophecies of doom so long as there is a growing interest in various phases of outdoor resources management.

The voice of the people may not prevail at all times, but over the years the people of Michigan get most of what they demand, if the demand is loud and persistent.

Mardi Gras celebration at New Orleans is held just before Lent.

Luncheon Shower Is Held

Bride-elect Flora Diepenhorst of Romulus was honored at a 12:30 luncheon and bridal shower Saturday, July 25, at Stouffer's in Eastland. Hostess for the occasion was Mrs. Grace Linzer of Grosse Pointe Farms, aunt of the groom-elect.

The twenty ladies attending were seated at a table done in white linen with yellow embellishments. Also packaged in yellow were the prizes awarded lucky winners of the bridal games which were played immediately following the lunch.

Flora's sister and maid-of-honor to-be, Marie Diepenhorst, assisted in opening the many lovely gifts and displaying them for her guests.

Flora will become the bride of Steve Enzer of Grosse Pointe on August 8 in Grosse Pointe.

NEW BRIDE — Mr. and Mrs. James F. Gannon of Dorchester, Massachusetts announce the marriage of their daughter, Kathleen Ann, to Thomas P. Hudson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hudson of Belleville. The new Mrs. Hudson attended Massachusetts Bay Community College. Her bridegroom is currently serving with the U.S. Navy. The newlyweds are making their home at 7 Christopher Street, Dorchester.

Hawaii Recent Target For BPW Delegation

On Tuesday, July 14, the following business and Professional Women members left Detroit Metro Airport via United Air Lines for Hilo, on the Island of Hawaii: Beatrice Boldt, Helen White, Ruth Davis, Mildred Artley, Marie Clayton, Arda Riggs, Vira Petraska and Margaret Saunders. Other non-members, who were also included in this "All Hawaii Special" under the guidance and direction of Towne House Travel, personally conducted by Thomas Shanahan, were Cora Bradshaw, Dorothy Mason and daughter, Pat Mason, Mae Fielder, and Mr. Clayton Saunders.

The 1970 National Convention of Business and Professional Women's Clubs was held in Honolulu, Hawaii, July 19-23, and Mrs. Margaret Saunders was the elected delegate to represent the Belleville Club. Prize-winning author and former White House staff member, Liz Carpenter, was the guest speaker at the Thursday evening meeting when the Installation of 1970-71 National Officers in the beautiful Coral Ballroom was also held.

More than three thousand women attended the convention at the Hilton Hawaiian Village where the local group had accommodations. The conclave climaxed the Golden Anniversary of the approximately 180,000 member organization that was founded in St. Louis, Missouri in 1919 to improve conditions for the nations working women.

MANY OF THE Belleville representatives and members attended the election and installation ceremonies as well as workshops in connection with the National Federation's 1970-71 program, "Era of Responsibility", and presentation of BPW's 1970-71 Legislative Platform.

Thirty-one Young Career Women, including three International Career Women from Japan, Taiwan, and Viet Nam sponsored by the BPW Foundation, were presented individually by president Mrs. Myra Ruth Harmon of Lafayette, Indiana.

Eight of the group from Belleville who concluded their visit to the Hawaiian Islands (after Hilo, Kona, Convention activities, and Waikiki Beach) had a special extension to the beautiful Island of Kauai. They stayed at the Kauai Surf Hotel and tours included a cruise up the Waiau River to visit the famous Fern Grotto, a visit to Waimea Canyon, the "Grand Canyon" of the Pacific, and the historic Poipu Beach area. Many were reluctant to leave for a return flight to Honolulu and connecting flight to Metro non-stop July 30.

A picnic meeting of the local BPW Club will be held at the home of Alice Atwell on Monday, August 10, at 6:30 PM when members will don their muu muus for their own luau, and share their many souvenirs, pictures, leis, and hula lessons and relive their many hours of enchantment during these past days. Two of the group continued to the Orient to finish their tour August 8.

Double Ring Vows Read At Faith Assembly Church

Faith Assembly Church, Belleville, was the scene July 24 of the wedding of Hazel Marie McFalls and Rev. Robert Dean Sizemore. Double ring vows were exchanged at seven in the evening with Rev. Clarence Hayes presiding.

Some 100 friends and relatives from Indiana, Ohio, Melvindale, Taylor, Troy, and Belleville were assembled for the ceremony during which Mrs. George Newcomb sang "Wither Thou Goest" and "The Wedding Prayer."

HAZEL CHOSE for her wedding day a formal gown of slipper satin overlaid with Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice was styled with a scoop neckline, long lace sleeves, and a self bow centering the waistline.

Her elbow-length illusion veil was held by a crown of sequins and pearls and she carried a colonial arrangement of white carnations encircling a detachable corsage of baby roses in pale pink.

The bridegroom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Jack A. Sizemore of Ypsilanti, served as the only attendant. Her aqua satin gown featured an overlay of lace and her headpiece was styled of white net.

Jack A. Sizemore of Ypsilanti was his brother's best man. Ushers were Dennis Joe Hayes and Terry Dale McQuaid of Second St.

Mrs. Kirk W. Pitcher spent Wednesday afternoon with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ray Leonard of Inkster.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane F. Ross received word of the birth of a 7½ pound daughter to their son and wife, Capt. and Mrs. Daniel F. Ross of Rollo, Mo. on July 27. The new baby has been named Michelle Christine. Capt. Ross is stationed in Vietnam.

Four will be from 3 to 10 p.m., on Saturday and noon until 10 p.m. Sunday.

Again this year there will be Bar-B-Que Chicken on

REV. AND MRS. ROBERT D. SIZEMORE

Norris, both of Ypsilanti.

For her son's wedding, Mrs. Sizemore donned a pink sheath dress with a lace coat to which she pinned her corsage of pink and white carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rhodes of Sheldon Road hosted the reception which followed.

The bridegroom graduated from Belleville High School in 1966 and spent two years with the U.S. Army. An employee of Eastern Michigan University, he is also an evangelist in radio ministry.

B. McLaren Engaged To Sally Yoki

The engagement of Sally M. Yoki to Bruce W. McLaren is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Yoki of Crystal Falls, Michigan.

The bride-elect, a 1969 graduate of Crystal Falls High School, is making plans for a September 12 wedding.

Her fiancé, son of Mrs. Loretta Johnson of Belleville and the late Harvey W. McLaren, will be a junior at Michigan State University this fall. He is a 1968 alumnus of Belleville High School.

Shukait-Lovelace Vows Read At St. Anthony's

A reception at the Tri-County Sportsman's Club, Saline, attended by 450 guests followed the August 1 wedding of Cathy G. Lovelace and Victor H. Shukait at St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Lovelace of 9995 Willis Road, Willis, Cathy was escorted to the sanctuary by her father.

For the double ring nuptials, read by Father Raymond Skoney at one in the afternoon, the altar was appointed with white gladiolas.

Cathy selected for her wedding day a bouffant creation of Chantilly lace over satin. The fitted bodice was styled with a Sabrina neckline, long lace sleeves, and a tiered formal-length skirt.

A tiara of lace and seed pearls secured her illusion veil which was cut in mid-back length. Her bouquet was comprised of white carnations and white roses.

AS HER sister's honor attendant, Mrs. Lionel Smith of Ypsilanti donned a dark orchid frock with daisy appliques accenting the bodice, sleeves and neckline.

MRS. VICTOR H. SHUKAIT

Her headdress was formed of three matching roses and she carried an arrangement of dark orchid carnations.

Wearing identical ensembles in pale orchid were Mrs. William Coleman of Ypsilanti; Angela Meta of Manchester; Janice Lovelace, sister of the bride; Patricia McFall of Willis, cousin of the bridegroom; Pam Cheever of Milan; and Kathy Apper of Clinton.

Dawn Apper, daughter of the William Appers of Clinton, and Chris Labombard, son of the Chris Labombards of Willis, were dressed as miniature bride and groom.

THE BRIDEGROOM, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shukait of 5385 Willis Road, Ypsilanti, asked his brother, Steven, to be best man. The corps of ushers included Roy Cheever and Richard Mitchell, both cousins of the bridegroom from Willis; Edward Lovelace, brother of the bride; L.J. Smith of Ypsilanti, brother-in-law of the bride; Mark Shukait of Ypsilanti, brother of the bridegroom; and Roy Sherman Shukait, a cousin.

A yellow lace and taffeta empire frock was worn by Mrs. Lovelace for her daughter's wedding while Mrs. Shukait donned a pink dotted swiss empire-style dress. Both were presented with corsages of harmonizing carnations.

Both Cathy and Victor graduated from Lincoln High School this past June. Cathy is currently employed at the U.S. Post Office, Ann Arbor, and her husband is with Webb Forging, Belleville.

The newlyweds are now residing at 354 Main Street, Belleville.

MRS. RONALD G. PAIGE

Bride Wears Mother's 40-Year Old Veil

Carolyn De Vries, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur De Vries of Wyoming, Michigan and Ronald G. Paige of Lansing were united in marriage July 17 at the First Lansing Christian Reformed Church. Rev. Alvin Hoksbergen presided at the nuptials.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Paige of Hamburg, formerly of Belleville.

The bride chose for her marriage an empire gown of organza over satin crepe designed with a softly-rounded neckline frosted with floral lace appliques centered with seed pearls.

Matching lace edged the floor-length veil which Miss De Vries wore for her wedding. The same veil which her mother wore 40 years ago, it was caught to a head-encircling band of rhinestones and silver braid.

Vivian Westveld of Grand Rapids and Le Roy Paige, brother of the bridegroom, served as attendants.

The newlyweds plan a honeymoon trip to Montreal.

Leslie Anne Makes Debut

Norman and Lois Foder of 40415 Alden Drive, Belleville, have a new baby daughter born July 28 at Annapolis Hospital, Wayne. The 10 lb. - 1/4 oz. newcomer was named Leslie Anne.

The baby's brothers and sisters are Rick Frankowski, 16; Mike Frankowski, 15; Carol Frankowski, 12; Stephen Frankowski, 11; David Frankowski, 10; and Debbie Foder, five.

Hi There, Marcy!

Marcy Ann is the name chosen by Mr. and Mrs. Rex Simms of New Boston for their new daughter born July 23 at Annapolis Hospital, Wayne.

The 7 lb. - 5 oz. newcomer's mother is the former Jane Ward of New Boston. Proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hanon of Erie, Mich. and Mr. and Mrs. Harold O. Ward of New Boston.

The newlyweds, both graduates of Romulus High School, are now making their home at 6395 Central, Inkster. The bridegroom is employed at Detroit Diesel Engine, Division of General Motors.

Lisa Cox, eight, and Daniel Decker, 10, sister and brother of the bride couple, served as flowergirl and ringbearer, respectively. Lisa's floor-length gown was in blue with a high collar and long sleeves. The basket she carried was filled with blue and white carnations.

Quartet Of Showers

FOUR RECENT bridal showers have kept Bonnie Sell busy writing thank you notes and recording her many beautiful gifts. The first in the series was given by Bonnie's three attendants, Barbara Neumann and Janet Kelly of Ypsilanti and Elaine Sell of New Boston.

Held at the Neumann home, there were about 15 to take part in the buncos games and luncheon which followed. The hostesses also gave Bonnie a hand with her ribbons and wrappings.

MRS. VIOLA WAVLITZ, Bonnie's aunt, entertained at her home in Taylor with some 50 friends and relatives attending. Bride's bingo was the afternoon entertainment followed by the gift presentation and luncheon.

The pink and white color scheme of the wedding was carried out with bells and hearts over the buffet table.

PINK AND white daisy centerpieces added a pretty and festive touch to the tables set up for the luncheon shower hosted recently by two of the future bridegroom's aunts. Mrs. Norton Milford, who welcomed some 20 guests to her home in Milford, was assisted by Mrs. George Rogers, also of Milford.

The social afternoon centered on the opening of Bonnie's future household items and the presentation of the centerpieces for door prizes.

Local guests included the honoree's mother and sister, Mrs. Elmer Sell and Carol, Barbara Neumann, and Mrs. Wilbur Kelly and daughter, Janet.

ABOUT 40 friends and relatives answered invitations sent out by Peggy Long of Saline and Carol Sell who were co-hostesses at the final pre-nuptial event, also tagged miscellaneous.

The group from Milan, Saline, Ypsilanti, and Belleville enjoyed a number of bridal-theme games followed by a buffet-style supper held at the Long home.

The bride-elect, who will be a junior at Eastern Michigan in the fall, will be married August 8 to William Kelly of Ypsilanti. St. John's Lutheran Church in Waltz has been reserved for the ceremony.

ANOTHER BRIDE-TO-BE, Sharon Harvey, has been caught up in the whirlwind of pre-wedding activities. The daughter of the Arthur Harveys of Edgedale Drive, Sharon will be married August 29 to Robert Rea at the United Presbyterian Church in Plymouth.

About 50 friends and relatives gathered recently for a miscellaneous shower given at the Harvey home by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Lenore Furby of Wyandotte, and daughters, Cheryl and Shirlene, and the bride-elect's sister, Christine Harvey.

Bloomfield Hills, Ypsilanti, Wyandotte, and Belleville were represented at the party which included several wedding-theme games and a luncheon featuring Maurice salad.

Sharon's cousin, Cheryl Furby, assisted as she opened her many pretty gifts amid a red, white and blue setting.

'Bye To Barnetts

MIKE, VICKI and Liisa Barnett departed Belleville Thursday — destination, Cherry Pointe, North Carolina where Mike is to continue serving with the U.S. Marines for another nine months.

Mike returned July 11 after seeing a year's tour of duty as an electronics technician in Vietnam. While in Belleville, he and his family divided their time between their parents, the Taft Barnetts of Ecorse Road and the John Roberts' of Lake Pointe Pass.

Enroute south the threesome planned to visit in (Continued on Page 8-A)

Kiwanians Plan Family Reunion Day

By Pearl Morris
Phone WH-1-1187

Romulus township Kiwanians will observe Family Reunion Day Thursday, Aug. 6, with their Annual Family Picnic which will be held at the local Metro Huron Clinton Park.

Kiwanians and their families will gather at 6 p.m. at Fox Woods. Hamburger patties and buns will be furnished. Ladies are asked to please bring two dishes to pass; also cold beverages.

Mrs. Fred Zellmer, 93, formerly of Eureka Rd., passed away Friday at the home of her granddaughter in Wyandotte.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Richardson of Olive St., returned recently from a very enjoyable vacation to Miami, Florida, Tennessee and Kentucky. It was the couple's first visit to the Florida vacationland.

The 4-H Office has a supply of stickers to publicize the fair; or they may be procured at the fairgrounds. This year's Wayne County 4-H Fair will be from Aug. 23.

Mrs. Helen Gallien of Olive St., accompanied about 15 members of her Career Class from the Romulus Calvary Baptist Church to the ball game Friday in Detroit and saw the Detroit Tigers win an exciting victory (10 to 9) over the Minnesota team. Also joining them were several members of Mr. Gary Moore's Senior High Class of the same church.

Bill Glaab of Hannan Rd., has just returned from two weeks Summer Camp training with the Air National Guard at Alpena, Michigan.

Remaining with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Glaab of Hannan Rd., during the two weeks were Sister Patricia from Detroit, Mrs. Susan Hengstebeck of Detroit or Miss Virginia Kubeck of New Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant VanAernum of Romulus Ave., and their children and grandchildren were among relatives who attended the Broesamle Family Reunion Sunday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Tabernie near Leslie, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Krueger of Romaine St. entertained at dinner last week Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Grant VanAernum of Romulus Ave., Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Tabernie and son, Randy, of Leslie; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hooper; Mrs. Carroll Broesamle who is visiting here from Miami and Mrs. Green of Nashville, Tenn.

Mr. Estil Hughes of S. Huron River Dr., was a speaker at special gospel meetings held at the Harrison Church of Christ in Harrison, Michigan, the past week. Brother Hughes is pastor of the New Boston Church of Christ and can be heard Sunday mornings at 8 a.m. over radio station WSDS (1480 on your dial).

Last week Mrs. I. Icenogle of S. Huron River Dr., spent several days up north as the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kilander of Wyandotte. The trio was at the Kilanders' northern home at Manistee Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jackson of Miami, Florida, were Monday evening guests of lifelong friends, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Icenogle of S. Huron River Dr.

While vacationing in Michigan, the Jacksons celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary. Another Florida resident, Mrs. Eve Ray, of DeLand and her sister were Sunday guests of the Icenogles.

Ronnie Farmer of Huron River Dr., motored to near Peoria, Illinois over the weekend to visit his fiancée, Miss Judy Hood of Aston St., who is assigned there until September with her class as part of her RN training at Mercy Hospital in Detroit. Traveling with him was Fred Hay, Jr., of Romulus.

Nomads On The Move

A NINE-DAY trip to the West Coast, with four days in San Francisco and five in Los Angeles, was taken July 18 to 26 by the Nomads, metropolitan Detroit air travel club.

In San Francisco, the group stayed at downtown hotel within walking distance of cable cars, theaters and the civic center. In L.A., their hotel was located across from Disneyland's main entrance. Optional side trips in the first city were a tour of three night clubs including Finocchio's and a 17-mile drive featuring Monterey and Carmel.

Los Angeles, where the weather is hot and humid this time of year, appeals to tourists with Knott's Berry Farm, Hollywood, Wax Museum, Universal Studios, Marineland, and Japanese Deer Park among the many points of interest.

Localities taking part in the trip were Clarence Wrightnour, who was part of the crew, and his wife, Helen, who reside on Merriman Road, Romulus.

Cruisin' Down The River...

THE LAST of the fabulous old paddlewheels, the Delta Queen, was the floating home for the Justin Emersons of Belleville and the Emory Seesteds of Romulus for nine days recently. The last river steamship in existence, the 'Queen' will be retired at the end of the season unless Congress considers the petition to retain it.

Traveling the Ohio River, the foursome covered some 984 miles from Cincinnati to Kentucky Lake with several stops enroute. Going ashore at Louisville, they toured Churchill Downs and the Seagram's plant to name but a few points of interest.

On their return to Cincinnati, the Seesteds boarded a train for their return to Michigan while the Emersons motored onto Jacksonville, Alabama. Calling on their son and daughter-in-law, Captain and Mrs. Sam Emerson, they got their first look at Matthew Walker Emerson, their five-weeks old grandson. Following three days of getting acquainted, they returned home on July 27.

Bits 'N Pieces

INVITATIONS TO a cradle shower for Mrs. Richard (Grace) Sietz took a Belleville threesome to Southgate last week. Mrs. Joseph Sietz, Mrs. Henry Sietz and Mrs. Steve Pavelka accompanied Mrs. William Emerson of Ypsilanti to the LaColonade Apartments for the party. Co-hosting the evening social were Marilyn Svaluto, Ellen Rebecka, Aileen Sadoniewicz, Lucy Buckley and Mary Ann Emerson...

GETTING AWAY for the week-end, Dave and Penny Beck of Chase Road, Romulus, motored across the state to Holland. Taking in as many highlights of 'tulip town' as possible, they toured Dutch Village and Windmill Island, spent time at the County Fair, and enjoyed swimming in Lake Michigan. LINDA HOWARD winged her way to Detroit Metro for a week-long visit with her family, Mr. and Mrs. A.R. Liebler and Ray of Ormond Drive. A week ago today she returned to Minneapolis, Minnesota to finish out her summer vacation before starting her teaching career (junior high English) in suburban Hopkins.

Several Biblical characters were named Benjamin.

MR. AND MRS. PHILIP J. ST. LOUIS

Newlyweds Honeymoon In Northern Michigan

Arrangements of carnations and daisies adorned the altar of Grace Baptist Church as Brenda Sue Leonard and Phillip J. St. Louis exchanged double ring vows July 18.

Rev. Kinniman Crawford presided at the seven o'clock ceremony before some 100 assembled guests. Donna Coggins at the organ accompanied Bill Graham who was soloist for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Leonard of 1852 Eileen Street, Ypsilanti, and Mrs. Alta Marshall of 8980 Brustol Court, Ypsilanti, are parents of the young couple.

Walking to the altar with her father, Brenda was gowned in white satin and Chantilly lace, the long sleeved bodice being trimmed with sequins and pearls.

A petal lace headpiece outlined with sequins and pearls held the bride's elbow length veil and she carried a bouquet of daisies.

sweetheart, roses and carnations.

TWO CLOSE friends of the bride, Mrs. Jim Wilborn of Ypsilanti and Linda Kay Kopkie of Willow Run, served as matron and maid of honor, respectively. Mrs. Wilborn donned a blue floor-length frock of satin with a chiffon overlay and chiffon train. A large blue bow held her shoulder-length veil which had tiny daisies attached and she carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies and blue carnations. Miss Kopkie wore a green empire-mode gown of satin covered with matching lace.

Bridesmaids were Linda and Charollette Leonard, sisters of the bride, who wore yellow ensembles, and Robin Scouchger of Hamburg, who donned green.

Eight-year old Lorie Staples, in a white street-length frock and crown of daisies, carried out the role of flowergirl while Dwight McCollum served as ringbearer.

PAUL BURG of Ypsilanti was best man and ushers were Gary Leonard and Terry and Alto Ray St. Louis, brothers of the bride couple; and Doug Connet of Monroe.

At the reception in the church, Mrs. Leonard greeted the 125 guests in an aqua crepe dress with beige accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a gray suit with pink accessories. Both added corsages of carnations and roses to their outfits.

Following a week-long honeymoon in northern Michigan, the newlyweds made their home at 1397 Russell Street, Ypsilanti.

A 1968 graduate of Belleville High School, the new Mrs. St. Louis is employed at K-Mart, Ypsilanti. Her husband attended Belleville High School until 1967 when he transferred to Pinckney High and graduated in 1968. He is an employee of the Ford Motor Company at Wayne.

Quick, easy and nutritious! That's a tangy main dish of sliced beef liver spread with chili sauce. It broils in minutes to tender doneness. A 3 1/2-ounce serving, supplying only about 210 calories, provides more than a day's requirement of vitamin A and iron. Liver is one of the best sources of these two nutrients.

"WHY ARE THERE NOT ENOUGH people supporting the businessman or business?" was the question put by Vernon Moore, trying to discover what candidates would do to correct this apparent situation and improve the residential, commercial and industrial phases of township living.

"WHAT ABOUT THE FLOODLAND? WHY CAN'T WE USE IT?" were the inquiries of Mrs. Mildred Bennett, member of the Huron Township School Board. She was one of the many participants in questioning of candidates seeking election in Huron Township Aug. 4 at the Huron Jaycees sponsored "Candidates Night" last Tuesday.

Cab Stand Request Okayed

ROMULUS — A request by Theodore El-Ameen of Detroit to operate a taxi cab and tax cab stand at 35609 Goddard Rd. was approved by city council recently.

The approval, council said, is contingent upon compliance with the city's Taxi Cab Ordinance.

In other action of the city council, July 28, was granting approval to the 7-Eleven Store, 8498 S. Wayne Rd., of its request for a SDM License for the sale of beer and wine.

The council also approved the acceptance of $6,500 as the price for the purchase for the Department of Public Works of road maintenance equipment.

A request by Joseph B. Gallagher, manager of Romulus Building Department, to let out bids for the purchase of a new car for the building department was approved by a 4 to 3 vote.

Commander Promoted

YPSILANTI — State Police Staff Sgt. Carl E. Freeborn, 49, commanding officer of the Ypsilanti post since 1965, was promoted to lieutenant Aug. 2 and assigned to field inspection duty out of East Lansing headquarters.

Freeborn succeeds Lt. Mario E. Formolo, 54, who retired July 31 after nearly 31 years of service.

The new field inspector joined the State Police in 1946, first serving at Center Line (now the Warren post). He was promoted to corporal 10 years later and transferred to Stephenson, then was assigned in 1960 to Ypsilanti.

Promoted to sergeant in 1961, Freeborn was

Council Okays Ordinance

ROMULUS — Romulus has adopted its first Motor Vehicle Ordinance.

The ordinance is patterned after the State of Michigan Motor Vehicle Law including all of its prior changes, amendments, alterations, additions, or repeals.

The new vehicle code for Romulus will become effective immediately upon publication scheduled soon.

The city council adopted the new ordinance at its July 28 session.

Councilman Ellis T. Pennington moved for adoption by the city of the new ordinance. He was supported by Councilman Brooker R. Edwards.

Graduates Set Reunion

BELLEVILLE — The graduating class of 1950 of transferred to command the Cadillac post. Four years later he was advanced to staff sergeant and command at Ypsilanti.

Freeborn was born in Dafer in Chippewa county and graduated from high school at Pickford. During World War II he was in the Army for 35 months, including service as an Air Force pilot. He and his wife, Evelyn, have two daughters.

Formolo joined the State Police in September, 1939, serving first at Bay City before assignments in 1940 to Jonesville and Ypsilanti and in 1943 to East Lansing where he worked in both post and operations divisions.

Amway Changes Tour Hours

ADA — Amway, major manufacturer of home-, car- and personal-care products, has announced time changes in its interesting plant tour program.

Because of expansion of buildings and addition of new equipment, the time allowed for a tour of the manufacturing facilities had to be increased. Under the new schedule tours begin from the Administration Building lobby at 9 and 11 a.m. and 1:30 and 3:30 p.m.

Over 15,000 persons toured Amway in 1969. No reservations are needed for the free tours. Groups of more than 15 persons are requested to contact Milton Weeks, Tour Coordinator, Amway Promotional Aids Department, 7575 East Fulton Rd., Ada, Mich. 49301, so that proper arrangements can be made for such a group.

Belleville High School is having its 20-year reunion.

Plans are being made to hold the reunion on Saturday, Aug. 8, at Rogalle's Lounge, located on Hagerty Rd., at the I-94 Expressway.

If you are a 1950 graduate and wish to attend please contact Shirley Carnahan at 697-8880.

Conference Set

A statewide Public Affairs Conference, sponsored by the public affairs committee of Michigan State Chamber of Commerce, will be held at Weber's Inn, Ann Arbor, on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 1-2.

Upsets Mark Romulus League Play

Leaders Retain 1st

Upsets were the order of the day last week as both Romulus Adult Softball League Leaders suffered resounding defeats at the hands of two noncontenders.

Baum's Funeral Home and Anchor Block managed to keep their hold on to first place though, with 15 and 3 records each.

Lowly Metro Radiator struck a most telling blow against front running Baum's as they handed the leaders a 4 to 3 setback.

The victory coupled with another later in the week over a weak Five Points team raised Metro from the league cellar.

In the battle with Baum's, Metro's winning pitcher, Paul Goralski, scored the first run for his team in the third inning. Goralski made it to second base with a double and he was soon sent home by a single hit by Jim Collizzi.

Metro added another score in the fourth inning through the efforts of Leo Whalen and Pete Ferguson.

It wasn't until the bottom of the fourth inning that Baum's was able to get every thing together to score a run, when the baserunning of Dave Hoffman made it from second base to home on the strength of teammate Ted Marken's single.

Baum struck again in the fifth inning. With two men out, Jerry Debuyscher turned a Metro error into a trip to home plate. Mike Burton also scored later in the same inning to give Baum's a 3 to 2 advantage.

It was pitcher Goralski who put the game on ice for Metro in the final inning. Goralski rapped a hit off Baum's pitcher Ivan Kinshella to reach first base. Moments later Goralski was sent to home plate with the winning run when Ralph Lehman struck for a two bagger.

The upset gave sole possession of first place to the Anchor Block team for two days until it too fell, this time to the sixth place Romulus Progressive outfit.

The first four innings of play gave no indication of what was about to happen to the league leaders. However, when Progressive's pitcher, All Ellis stepped up to bat in the fifth inning he was to precipitate a hitting barrage that was to knock Anchor Block off their newly acquired pedestal.

Ellis cracked a two run triple past the Progressive outfield which sent Ron Dick and Harmon Schonfield across home plate.

The sixth place team continued their scoring spree in the next stanza when they added four more runs on a double by Mike Sprau, a triple by Bill Reibe and singles Jim Harris and Fred Eberline.

Anchor Block retaliated in the same inning with two quick runs by Chuck Hazen and Don Skiff.

Skiff added the final run of the game in the seventh inning to give Progressive a 7 to 3 triumph over Anchor Block.

Before the week was out Baum's came back with a 12 to 1 win over a faltering Romulus Press Repair team to regain a piece of first place.

The first inning of the game saw Baum's come up with a lone run after Jerry Debuyscher managed to cross home plate.

In the second stanza Baum's erupted for four more runs when Mike Patrick lashed out a two run homer bringing in pitcher Ivan Kinshella with him. Mike Burton and Roy Hartford added two more before the inning ended.

After the fourth inning the score had mounted to 9 to 0 with four more runs being added in that bracket. Hartford, Debuyscher, Mike Pratt and Alex McCraight combined their efforts for the scoring surge.

The trio of Burton, Hartford and Patrick scored the final three runs for the victors in the fifth inning.

It wasn't until the sixth inning that the Press Repair outfit managed to cross home plate, and they only managed it once when Pressman Mike Grasso made it to home on a sacrifice fly hit by Rick Ward.

ANN ARBOR — College football's coach of the year, Bo Schembechler of Michigan, was a left-handed pitcher at Miami of Ohio.

THE CENTER OF ATTENTION — All eyes are on the ball as Willy Cofield, pitcher for Gray's Team prepares to take a mighty swing at the pitch which appears to be just hanging in mid air, waiting to be hit. The action came in the Romulus Adult Softball League in a game which saw Walt's Bar triumph 8 to 2 over league rival Gray's Team.

THE YANKEES of the Belleville American Little League suffered their first loss Saturday, August 1, 1970, losing to the Senators 1 to 0. The Yankees have ended up in first place in the American League with a 17 to 1 record. The following Yankee team members are from left to right. Kerr Takes Series Win

Kerr Manufacturing won the Romulus little League world series this past week by ousting their National League contender the Morgan Cubs in two straight games.

The American little league club swept the best two out of three series by 11 to 4 and 10 to 5 scores.

Prior to winning the series championship, the Kerr outfit clinched the American conference crown by defeating the Spearman's Little Skippers by an 11 to 5 count. Russel Ayers hit a home run in the second inning of the conference championship game to get the winners going before the game was called in the fifth inning when rain made the field unplayable.

Golf Tournament Entries Due

Entrants have only three days left to request preferred starting times in the annual City Golf Tournaments in Wayne, Westland, Garden City and Inkster.

The 36-hole medal play tournament, to be held Aug. 15-16 at Fellows Creek Golf Course, is co-sponsored by Associated Newspapers, Inc. and the recreation departments of the four cities.

Entries will be accepted right up to tee-off time — between 9 and 11 a.m. Aug. 15 (Saturday) — but golfers, to be able to request a particular time with the starting limits have to have their entries turned in by 5 p.m. Saturday (Aug. 8).

The entry fee is $13.50, which will cover expenses for a $10 greens fee and trophies. Any money left over will be shared among the four recreation departments to help defray expenses of their representatives to the state tournament next month.

To compete in the city tournaments, a golfer must live or work at least 30 hours in the city in which he will be competing. However, only bonafide residents may advance to the state tourney.

The five low scorers from each city will comprise the respective cities' state toumey teams. First, second and third place finishers in each city, along with the tourney medalism, will receive trophies.

Entries can be turned in at any of the four recreation departments or at Associated Newspapers, Inc., 35540 Michigan Ave. West, Wayne, Mich. 48184. Checks should be made payable to Associated Newspapers, Inc.

An entry blank is provided in adjacent columns.

With its 2.4 million monthly circulation "Boys' Life", published by the Boy Scouts of America, is among the top 20 general magazines in the nation.

THE SPORTS MERIDIAN

By Tom Mooradian

While sports editor Tom Mooradian is on vacation the Sports Meridian is focussing on the baseball experiences of Bob Eisiminger, the "rookie" manager of the Wayne Post III American Legion baseball team.

In his first year at the helm of the American Legion squad, Bob has captured the 16th District crown with an impressive record of 16 wins and 5 losses.

This may be Eisiminger's first year with the Wayne ball club, but he certainly is no stranger to the sport. He comes to Wayne with impressive credentials to say the least.

In 1939 this man began a 14-year career in professional baseball by signing a contract with the St. Louis Cardinals. Before he left the pro ranks he had served as pitcher, manager and even as team scout.

Eisiminger is no novice when it comes to Legion ball either. Actually, that is where it all began for him. It was his outstanding play for a Legion team back in his home town for St. Joseph, Mo. that earned him a place with the Cardinals.

And not too long ago, Bob managed two Legion teams in Winston-Salem, N.C. One of his teams walked off with the state title, while the next year his team captured second place.

Eisiminger stresses the importance of the right attitude for any young athlete. He says, "Attitude is so important that big league scouts ask how a players attitude is almost before they ask what his record is."

Eisiminger contends that, "A boy must prepare himself by developing the good attitude. He must learn to hustle all the time, give when it really hurts to give, learn to play under all situations that are not exactly favorable and to always be a team man."

"It seems that it is so easy for boys to 'sluff off' so to speak, or get down on themselves because they are not the star or their hitting is off or even for just making an error. A player with the right attitude can play around these things by giving his best at all times. He is a real team man even if his personal play is faltering a little."

"A good attitude is by far the most important factor in the preparation for better and higher baseball or even bigger and better things in life," says the rookie manager.

Managing isn't all peaches and cream though. It has its woes and manager Eisiminger has had his share, but he says "The pleasures of the job more than outweigh the woes: working with the boys and meeting their parents and having men like Jack Malaney and Red Holman giving you 100 per cent support. All these made the job as manager a very pleasant and rewarding summer."

Field Executive Named For MEA Operations

GARDEN CITY — Richard Croll of 32441 Brown St. has been appointed one of six assistant executive secretaries to direct field operations for the Michigan Education Association (MEA).

His appointment was announced by Terry Herndon, MEA Executive Secretary.

RICHARD CROLL

Herndon said the new appointees will work directly under the supervision of Kai Erickson, recently named associate executive secretary for the newly enlarged field service division.

The immediate task will be to assist local associations in the selection and assignment of the various area directors also authorized under the expansion. That phase of the program is expected to be completed within a year and will boost the field staff membership from its present 13 to 90. The expansion will allow one staff person for every 800 teachers.

Croll, who will be responsible to regions two and six, has served on the MEA staff as a field representative since 1967. He previously taught in Garden City schools for nine years.

He holds a bachelor of arts from Adrian College and both a master of arts and a master of sciences from Eastern Michigan University.

He and his wife, Margaret, have one son, Michael, and four daughters, Sharon, Peggy, Kathy and Stephanie.

Croll's area will include Wayne, Macomb and St. Clair counties.

Commissioners Take Steps To Curb Rouge Pollution

Efforts to end pollution of the Rouge River have advanced a step with submission of preliminary recommendations to a committee of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

In presenting the recommendations, County Drain Commissioner Henry V. Herrick estimated that the eventual cost of the clean-up could amount of a half-billion dollars.

However, he said he is hopeful that the federal government will provide as much as half the funds $250 million.

The cost would be spread over drainage districts which encompass 40-odd cities, townships and villages located in the fast Rouge River drainage basin in Wayne, Oakland and Washtenaw counties.

Herrick's recommendations were prepared at the request of the public Works Committee of the Wayne County Board. The committee received them July 31.

"The job has to be done and our committee will submit its recommendations to the full board as soon as possible," said Commissioner Rudy Hickey, of Ecorse, D-District 18, Public Works chairman.

At the suggestion committee member Edmund Bizek, of Romulus, D-District 24, the committee also indicated opposition to future pumping of treated sewage into the Huron River by the cities of Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti and Upsilon Township.

Bizek suggested the county seek a court order prohibiting the discharge of treated sewage into the Huron River at Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti after a new Wayne County sewage treatment plant is built at the mouth of the Huron River in Brownstown Township.

The committee asked the Prosecuting Attorney and the County Department of Health to jointly prepare a recommended approach to the problem.

Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti are upstream of where the Huron River enters Wayne County at Belleville.

M.S. Richmond, assistant chief of the wastewater section of the Michigan Department of Health, told the committee that recreation use of the Huron River below Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti will have to be limited as long as treated sewage is being discharged into the river at that point.

"It is financially unfeasible to purify the sewage so completely that total body contact (swimming) would be safe," he stated.

Richmond also warned that state officials are preparing court orders requiring Wayne County and individual communities to build facilities to curtail pollution of the Rouge River and Ecorse Creek.

"This pollution is going to have to be cleaned up and cleaned up fast," he stated. "We will carry this all the way through the courts, if necessary. If we don't do it, the federal government will."

Herrick's plan calls for construction of an extensive system of drains and interceptor sewers to channel polluting waters into treatment plants rather than into the rivers.

One of the major projects is part of Detroit's pollution control master plan—a 25-mile-long interceptor sewer running the length of the Rouge River into that city's Jefferson Ave. treatment plant. Herrick estimated its cost at $75 million.

Herrick said he is meeting with the U.S. Corps of Engineers and other federal agencies in Washington Aug. 10 to discuss federal participation.

He pointed out that under the state drain code, local communities cannot be compelled to petition the Drain Commissioner for construction of drains.

However, he suggested that the Board of Commissioners refuse to pledge the county's faith and credit for municipal bonds in communities which will not participate in the program. This would effectively prevent sale of the bonds.

Reader Praises Faust For 'Engineer' Stand

TO THE EDITOR:

In May 1968, I asked my state senator to assist me with an engineering problem which affected the life, health and property of a great number of people in Western Wayne County. The Senator gave his assistance. I saw a need for better legislation. The Senator sent information to me and he has given assistance.

More recently, I asked other legislators to assist in getting better legislation passed. One response to that request was, "I am far too busy with other matters. I don't have time to get involved in that." A legislator too busy to get involved in legislation.

Yes, I am aware I have called to the people's attention a situation wherein it has been shown that the "consulting engineer" was not a licensed civil engineer. He just owned a major portion of stock in the civil engineering and land-surveying corporation. The politicians advertised him as "consulting engineer." This has been most embarrassing to a number of politicians, as certain public records show that they have called him "consulting engineer" for some years.

The general public is not supposed to be aware that a "consulting engineer" is required to be an expert in mathematics and the physical sciences. The records show that the "consulting engineer" has completed one semester in college algebra. He withdrew from courses in land surveying and trigonometry. The records show that his education at the University of Michigan consisted of attending seminars in government, which were sponsored by Michigan Municipal League. These seminars were held in a building owned by the U of M (so he apparently was educated as a civil engineer at the U of M?).

Seminars in government apparently give certain politicians an expertise in mathematics and the physical sciences. These seminars appear to qualify certain politicians to be passed off to the public as "consulting engineers".

Senator Faust has assisted the people in his district regarding this issue. Senator Faust found the time and the strength to serve the people. The fact that Senator Faust assisted me demonstrates that he is free of political cronyism. We need officials who are equal to their task. We need public officials who serve in the interest of the ordinary people, officials who do not cover up the mistakes and misrepresentations of their fellow politicians.

Ski Club Sets Show

BELLEVILLE — The Belleville Lake Ski Club will present their second Ski Show on Sunday, Sept. 6, on Belleville Lake.

The ski show will feature new acts and new talent. Donations will be accepted.

The club's performance was one of the highlights during this year's Fourth of July celebration on Belleville Lake.

To the Editor:

Does anyone know who Basil Stevens is? He acts like he runs that Eagle office!

On July 27th, I wrote a beautiful letter disclosing the political sins of Senator Faust. This Stevens character told me they could not print a letter of that nature in the election issue. When he said that, I threw myself to the floor, kicked my feet, cried violently and pounded the floor with my fists. He just stood there with a strange look on his face. I looked up and asked, "Now, will you print my letter?"

"No!" he replied firmly. And that's when I crawled over and bit him on the ankle.

He said that he had been telling people all day that he could not print letters that were not in praise of a candidate in the final edition before the election and I was the first person to bite him. And what's more, he didn't like it.

I explained the reason I was the only person to bite him, is that I am composed of 24 chromosomes from my father and 24 chromosomes from my mother. That these 48 chromosomes determine what I am. And the chance of ever again finding anyone exactly like me is only one in 300,000 billion.

I could tell he was touched by this because he looked up toward the heavens and whispered, "Thank God," and I thought he was going to print my letter.

"Oh!" I exclaimed, "So, you finally see it my way?"

"The only thing I see," he shouted, "is that you're crazy."

"I'm not crazy at all," I corrected. "It's just that, when my brain can't serve me in good stead... my guts do."

Or do they? He didn't print my letter.

EDITOR'S NOTE — With a strong belief in the ancient attitude of an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth, we believe the above letter calls for a whimsy for a whimsy. So:

Yes, Mrs. Mandeville, there is a Basil Stevens. He's young, (ahem) handsome, clean shaven, generally good natured, a devoted newspaperman and — in the eyes of his wife and two young daughters — the greatest guy in the world. You see, he too is composed of 24 chromosomes from each parent and has only a one in 300,000 billion of a chance of being duplicated.

In addition, he tries to be considerate and fair. That's what he thought he was doing nine days ago (Monday, July 27) when he telephoned you and several other letter writers to tell you critical remarks toward any candidate would not be condoned in letters in the final issue of your Associated Newspapers, Inc. publication prior to an election.

Such letters just aren't fair Mrs. Mandeville. The opposing candidate simply wouldn't have time to have a rebuttal printed. Had your letter been received a week sooner, there would have been no problem, no phone call

The Associated Newspapers, Inc., a division of Panax Corporation of East Lansing, welcomes letters from our readers. Letters must include signature and address, which will be withheld if requested, and must not exceed 300 words. All are subject to condensation.

Thank you.

from Basil Stevens, no deletion of 26 words from your letter — with your full knowledge, of course and, worst of all, no whimsy today.

Had your letter — which you say wasn't printed, but really was — been received a week sooner, we simply would have printed it verbatim. After all, it had been written in good taste, but it was just bad timing from our point of view.

If you remember from last Wednesday's letters column, we explained our actions — as you were told in our phone call — in an editor's note at the top of the page. You also were one of five persons who had words of criticism deleted or letters rejected. And, just one of those five persons was

Huron Citizens Irked By Program Switch

To The Editor:

What Happened to Dr. Charles Kromer? Dr. Kromer presented a computer scheduling program that proved helpful in saving our school district thousands of dollars.

Recently he had been denied the right to complete this program before the school doors open in September. As of July 1, his hands have been tied and the completion of this program has been handed over to another administrator who is not familiar with this program.

How can we afford to remove this man who has the ability to save us so much money.

At our last board meeting, the Huron school board tied the vote on the purchase of a video tape system. To the parents of Huron this seems to be a fine idea but, as was brought up from the floor by a parent "we are unable to supply the art classes, shop and science classes with material." How can we purchase another program when we do not have the funds to properly supply classes already in existence. We can not afford field trips for our children, can we afford a video tape system?

The subject of the Becoming Curriculum was brought up again by another parent to which, one board member responded that, he has heard complaints for a year on this new educational method. If this statement is true, action is long over due on the part of the school board.

Is it the practice of all school boards to let the superintendent of schools write school board policy? If so, doesn't this allow too much power in the hands of the superintendent, we parents think so. Two of our school board members were refused to view treasurer's records by the superintendent. Who is running this school district our administration or our school board?

HURON TOWNSHIP CITIZENS COMMITTEE:
PRESIDENT, Mrs. June Davidson;
VICE PRESIDENT, Mrs. Olga McDavid;
SECRETARY, Mrs. Barbara J. Griffith.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS: Pat Pearson, Doris Hartsuff, Barbara Summers, Arnold Michling, Harley Pamiter, Mary Lewis, Emma Figgot and Donna Knope.

not contacted because we could not locate her to do so. Her address was lacking in her letter.

Basil Stevens does not believe his policy is unfair. If he did, he would change it. In fact, State Rep. Pettipren, whom your letter favored, and State Sen. Faust, against whom we felt your 26 words might bring rise to potential defamatory innuendoes, both knew of our policy long ago.

But, Mrs. Mandeville, you can consider yourself an exception in another way. Normally, when we receive an unsigned letter, we just discard it in the file at the side of our desk. Because we knew — by the "brain" and "guts" phrase — that you, and only you, had written this letter, we decided to share the pleasure of reading it with our 27,900 other subscribers throughout Western Wayne County.

We do hope to hear from you, and other readers, much more often in the future. After all, when The Daily Eagle starts to come off the presses Aug. 17, we will be able to offer much more of a forum for our readers to express themselves on our editorial page.

And, believe me, Mrs. Mandeville, we will run every letter we get from you or anyone else whether it is critical — or hopefully — praiseworthy of us or anyone or anything else as long as the letter is signed and includes the writer's address. Of course, it goes without saying that libelous or vulgar material cannot be used. We also ask for a limit of 300 words per letter although our response is probably twice that amount.

As a bonus, we won't even use your name if so requested. We would like to ask one other favor. Please double space all letters. Yours, Mrs. Mandeville, was. Thank you.

Squadron Honors Cadet Members

Thirteen members of the Wayne-Romulus Cadet Squadron, Civil Air Patrol, were recently honored by their CAP unit for various services. Of the members, two are adult staff members and the other eleven cadet members.

Second Lieutenant Margaret D. Cooper of Howell, the Squadron Aerospace Education Officer, received the Search and Rescue ribbon for her services during CAP emergency services missions.

Warrant Officer Nelson G. Wazenski, of Westland, was awarded the Communications Specialty Badge, recognizing accomplishments in CAP radio communications.

Both also received their certificates for completion of the American Red Cross Advanced First Aid Course. Both the standard and advanced first aid classes are offered as optional training to squadron members each year.

The Dr. Robert H. Goddard Achievement ribbon, named after the man rightfully considered to be the father of modern rocketry, was awarded to Cadet First Sergeant Douglas Seiberras of Westland. This award marks achievement in the field of aerospace education.

A silver star attachment to this ribbon was awarded to Cadet Lieutenant Colonel JoAnn Brazier of Ann Arbor and Cadet Major Terry L. Markovich of Westland to mark significant achievements in the Civil Air Patrol Model Rocketry program.

Cadet First Sergeant Michael Martin of Westland and Cadet First Class Edward Lanzi, also of Westland, received their certificates for completion of the Advanced First Aid course. In addition, C/ISgt. Martin also received his Communications Specialty Badge, marking him as an experienced cadet radio operator in CAP.

Cadet Airman Robert Heft from Trenton was successful in recruiting two new members for the Wayne-Romulus Cadet Squadron, which earned him the award of the CAP Cadet Recruiter ribbon.

Cadet Captain Bruce Bowdler of Romulus received the Federal Aviation Administration Cadet Orientation Course ribbon, one of only two such awards made in the state this year.

C/Capt. Bowdler earned this award by completing a one-week class conducted at the FAA Academy in Oklahoma City. This course was only one of more than a dozen special activities offered each summer by the Civil Air Patrol for its Cadet members, with most of the expenses paid by CAP.

Cadet Warrant Officer Bruce Judycki of Garden City was commissioned a Cadet Second Lieutenant, capping a career of five years as a cadet in CAP.

Cadet recruits Kathi Chesney and Debbie

Garrison, both of Flat Rock, were sworn in as Cadet Airmen and were awarded the General John F. Curry Achievement ribbon. This award is named after the man who first commanded the Civil Air Patrol in the early days of World War II.

Engle To Head Body

WESTLAND—William Engle, Westland director of public service, has been elected chairman of the board of Directors of the Central Wayne County Sanitation Authority. Engle is the city's only representative to the authority.

Other members of the Board are Garden City Councilman Wilson Taylor, vice chairman; Wayne City Manager Wallace Arrowsmith, secretary; and former Inkster Councilman Leon Carroll, treasurer.

Mayor John Canfield of Dearborn Heights and Inkster Councilman Terrel Leceesne make up operating committee of the board.

Correction Of Article

WAYNE — An article which appeared on page 7-B of the July 22 issue of the Associated Newspapers concerning immunization against Rubella and other diseases for children entering Michigan schools for the first time contained a statement which said that Rubella immunization is required by law.

Immunization against Rubella and other diseases is required by law for all children entering public, private, parochial or denominational schools in Michigan is required unless the parent or guardian of the child signs a statement to the effect that the child was not immunized because of religious convictions or other objections.

Don't Be A Number; Be Sure You're Counted

The cities of Inkster, Wayne and Westland are involved in a hunt, which could provide badly needed money for each community.

With the federal census nearly completed for the past decade, some citizens of the communities involved have reported that they were missed when the count was taken.

Especially in apartment areas, where people are often in transit from one living area to another, the 1970 format of mailing out census forms to residents of communities could have gone awry and citizens could have been lost.

It behooves those who may have been lost, to contact their respective city halls and report this fact, since each city stands to gain money from the federal government for each citizen not counted by the census bureau.

If the citizens are not interested in gaining money for their city, and thus gaining a slight reduction in their personal tax load, they should consider the fact that today's mechanized society, faces and names are lost in a maze of numbers and letters.

Yes, lost citizens, Americans without a city, according to the census bureau, this is your chance to stand up and become a person again. Be counted, show your face at city hall, and be recognized as a being, and not a social security number.

For those who wish to demonstrate against computerization go out and find these people, existing beings lost in a maze of wires, diodes, cathodes and resistors.

Throw scorn at magnetic tape memory banks, and prove, conclusively, that despite mechanization, computerization, and regimentation, there are indeed people who will not only be numbers, but human beings.

On the serious side, it can only help all involved to step forward and be counted along with your fellow Americans. Write or call your city hall, and report if you were missed.

Let's Talk Reform

The outcome of yesterday's election for the County Board of Commission party nominations should have resulted in a quieting of the partisan issues involved in this campaign.

It is time now for constructive discussion of the issues, following the lead of many responsible candidates who have addressed themselves to county problems.

Key issue is that of county governmental reorganization.

The matter was stalled by the Board of Commissioners during the past year, most likely because the majority was afraid to rock the boat in an election year. It was the citizens' loss.

Wayne County needs to provide some executive leadership to iron out the wrinkles in a system of county government that looks like a patchwork quilt, and runs about as well.

THE NEED for reform is so unanimously agreed upon that it seems incumbent upon the new set of county officials to make plans for a countywide vote on the issue at the earliest possible date.

We think the time for charter revision of county government is upon us. We urge a campaign concentrated on public discussion of this important issue.

University Board Use State's Second-Stringers

By DON HOENSHELL

They all could have been governor or a United States Senator with just a little bit of luck and the flair.

But they all had a flaw that kept them from reaching the mountain top or grasping the Holy Grail.

They are the members of boards in control of the state's four-year colleges and universities, great and dedicated except for that ingredient that frosts the political cake.

Some serve by appointment, others by election and then they vanish when the realists who have debts to pay discover that the sands of time and dollars have run out.

Political parties need second-stringers of some distinction to allow the variety to achieve programs and win elections.

The main point driving political parties is to get re-elected, and the appeal must be general.

Mid-point in his 12-year career as governor, G. Mennen Williams in a moment of frivolity and candor said the perfect candidate was a woman with an Irish name, black and a resident of the Upper Peninsula.

Ha!

They also must have a power base, some access to campaign money, an attraction beyond the political and an idea of what they're going to do if elected, or appointed.

There's a pattern of political realism.

Peter Oppewall is a 45-year-old Democrat from Grand Rapids who has the usual degrees up to a doctorate, with advance study at the University of Leiden, The Netherlands. He's a professor of English at Calvin College, whence Former Gov. Romney obtained braintruster Walter DeVries.

Oppewall proclaims in the Michigan Manual that he's a member of the Kent County Democratic Party, his only published political distinction except for his Democratic Luncheon Board membership. Now he's president of the State Board of Education.

Republican James F. O'Neil also serves on the State Board of Education, a conservative hung up on sex education, a Ford Motor Co. employee but an Irish name on the ballot.

The University of Michigan Board of Regents has Lawrence B. Lindemer, a Stockbridge lawyer who was Republican state chairman during the Democratic regime of Williams and state representative during the same period.

It also has Otis M. Smith, a black Flint lawyer who was appointed by Williams as auditor general after an appointment as a member of the state's Public Service Commission, then an appointment to the Michigan Supreme Court by Former Gov. John B. Swainson.

There is Robert J. Brown, of Kalamazoo, who belongs to the YMCA and was a member (1961-67) of the Republican state central committee.

On the Michigan State University Board of Trustees is Stephen S. Nisbet, of Fremont, retiring this year. Nisbet, public relations vice president for Gerber Baby Foods, was the Republican compromise president of the 1961-62 State Constitutional Convention, who arranged to have Former Gov. Romney stand next to former President Eisenhower during a speech to the delegates.

There is Democrat Don Stevens, of Okemos, former director of Education for the AFL-CIO in Michigan, who was chosen to run for the board in 1957 as a nod to big labor.

Democrat Frank Hartman, of Flint, is the only member of a board in control of a university who was born in a log cabin, a political plus ruined by his masters degree from the University of Michigan in 1952.

At Wayne State University the Board of Governors has Leonard Woodcock, the new UAW president whose term expires this year, a Democrat, of course, and former Republican Gov. Wilbur M. Brucker Jr.

There is also Norman O. Stockmeyer, a Republican party yeoman on the state central committee for eight years, once a candidate for secretary of state, and a member of a zillion professional organizations, most of them having to do with money.

An Evening With The Draft Board

By JIM CARRAVALLAH

As you walk into the building that houses Local 102 of the Selective Service System in Plymouth you're struck with the phoney western United States style of architecture. If it's around 7:30 p.m. on a special day of the month, there are young men, really boys, waiting in line to see the men that make up the "draft board."

These men are all billed as "volunteers" who are "dedicated" to their country so much that they see to it that the military services are filled with men.

You get in line and look around.

There's a bookish looking fellow waiting to see "the men" of Local 102. He discusses philosophy with the guy next to him who showed up in slightly out of style pants that bag at the knees. You know they're CO's, and if you're one, you feel a rapport with them.

For the layman, CO stands for Conscientious Objector — the kind of fellow who's opposed to killing and violence as a means for change. He just can't understand how a gun makes a better world.

Over in the other corner of the room, against the coffee machine is a guy with his worried girl friend. She holds his hand.

Looking around, you see long hair, short hair and no hair at all. There are athletes and scholars and the entire spectrum of humanity in between. They're the cream of the crop, and all have a complaint about the system used to fill the armed forces.

While you look around, someone comes downstairs and calls your name.

It's a long walk up the stairs, and at the top is the board clerk that you clashed with the year before. Now she smiles.

"What is it you want to talk to us about?" asked the slightly overweight 'heavy' who conducts the interview while he shuffles some papers.

"I'm opposed to violence and war in general as a means for creating good in the world. I assume my country wants to create what is good, and I would like to do so through work with people, all people and not against any person."

"I'd work in a hospital, or work in an institution for retarded people, or work in education. I'll do anything but kill or help someone kill another."

"That's what they all say — why didn't you fill out this long ago?" He shoves a form at you that was sent out when you were first eligible for the draft. You were 18 then.

"It's been a long process of formulating a conscience through my studies in religion, philosophy, sociology and the like..." Your voice draws on as the other two members of the board, and that clerk, scribble notes. An older woman, probably the clerk's secretary, just smile inately and watch.

You're thinking that really you were scared then, because it was "American" to be an army man. You didn't realize you had to kill, and how hard it could be.

"... besides, during my lifetime, I've learned that violence solves nothing."

"Is there anything else you want to say?"

"I guess not."

"O.K., we'll look it over."

You walk down the stairs, and feel fulfilled, because you spoke your thoughts though they hurried you. It took about five minutes.

Three days later, you get your notice.

Pollution Touches Our Backyards

By DANN BARKUME

Summertime means vacations and this writer had the opportunity to spend a few days in the Upper Peninsula recently. I noticed that nobody in the U.P. was concerned about mercury in the water or filth in the air. They didn't have to.

I returned to hear reports of emergency steps being taken on both the east and west coasts and that 17 states have mercury contamination in their waters that are reaching perilous stages.

What can the residents of western Wayne County do about these problems and why should they be concerned about happenings that concern people thousands of miles away.

When was the last time you passed a stream and took a drink of water? When was the last time you smelled fresh trees after a rain instead of smoke, fog and whatever else may be floating around in our atmosphere.

The trouble is that the world is getting smaller and we have to be concerned about other people's problems because they are our problems. We all have to breathe and scientists are worried about how long our atmosphere will hold out.

Our neighbor to the east is no slouch in spewing all sorts of toxics into that thin layer of air that separates us from oblivion. What the big cities do affects us just as if it was happening right across the street. There is no way out. What happens affects all of us equally regardless of whether we live in western Wayne County or Lower Manhattan.

We should stop worrying about softball championships and trips to the beach and concentrate our efforts on cleaning up the air and water before we reach the critical stages.

Ecological conditions have been played to death lately but nothing has been done about it yet so it should continue. Anybody can talk but it takes more to do something about it.

Ecologists are concerned, government is concerned, people who live in large cities are concerned and we should be concerned. We have to be because the results will affect all of us; we are all involved, we should all be concerned.

Pollution should be of major concern to all of us. The time of isolation of communities is long passed. We are bound together in too many ways to let someone else worry about it. Their problems are now our problems and we must learn to deal with them as if they were our own.

Give Us Thrills, Maestro

By DICK McKNIGHT

Suburbanites, like just about everyone else in the consumer generation, are preoccupied with exploring the wordly wonders of the free society.

Despite the moanings of many people worried about the moral decay of suburban America, a solid percentage of us are becoming thrill freaks.

The stillness of an early Sunday morning in Westland is broken by the roar of a horde of automobiles pouring out of a drive-in movie theatre which is showing a triple feature "horror" show.

The films are advertised as having 'high fright levels,' and medical help is standing by to administer smelling salts to those overcome by the gore and gashlines on the screen.

We are intrigued by anything that was previously forbidden—Hugh Hefner has become rich by playing on those post-Victorian reactions.

When the Wayne County Sheriff's Department burned about 400 lbs. of marijuana in the Central Wayne County Incinerator Authority furnaces last week, it was labeled a 'good story'. It was 'good' because people get a thrill reading, legally, about things like pot. The papers are full of it.

The same thing is true of abortions, homosexuality and premarital and extramarital sexual relations. Case histories are featured in magazines and newspapers under the guise of informing the public about important social problems. Like the old 'confession' type magazines, such articles provide a groovy kick for the reader.

A play like 'Hair,' for example, suffers because of its public reception, not because of its content. 'Hair' is a brilliant piece of social criticism, but, unfortunately, much of its popularity is based on the fact that people want to see the actors take their clothes off for a few moments at the end of the first act.

In the meantime, legitimate theatre in Detroit continues to suffer from a lack of popular interest.

What's worse (if that's possible) is that legitimate theatre, literature, etc. is being attacked right along with the 'thrill' offerings the populace is enjoying. You're either for it, or against it—no discretion is allowed.

Western Wayne County, like all suburban areas, is getting what it wants in entertainment and reading material. The militant reaction to all this isn't helping by condemning everything in order to cut out the bad spots.

Perhaps it is simply good taste that is needed. But, of course, good taste continues to be a relative commodity. We are, as Doctor Spock would say, going through a stage.

Oversupply Of Teachers Expected By Board

LANSING — The State Board of Education has warned that an oversupply of teachers in Michigan is apparently a fact, and one that the state will need to learn to live with for some time to come.

School enrollment and census data indicate high school populations will hit a peak in about 1975, while elementary school populations have already peaked, the board noted. Basically, this means a change in the supply and demand setting for teachers and the school districts which employ them.

"This new setting will provide a change in conditions for teachers and employers of teachers," said State Board of Education President Dr. Peter Oppewall.

"Besides the basic change in school enrollments that has taken place or is expected, there are other factors which have a bearing on the expected oversupply of teachers," Oppewall said.

"First, increases in higher education enrollment in Michigan have resulted in a parallel increase in teacher production. Teacher production rates have increased substantially during the past four years.

"In 1965-66, for example, just over 9,000 provisional elementary and secondary teaching certificates were recommended by Michigan teacher education institutions. In 1968-69, by contrast, 12,706 such certificates were recommended," Oppewall said.

Michigan production of teachers has long been high among the states, he noted.

"In addition," Oppewall said, "teacher salaries, fringe benefits and working conditions have improved, and this has tended to retain many persons in teaching rather than encouraging them to elect another type of work."

"These same factors have attracted a number of former teachers back to the classroom, and teachers to come here from other states," he said.

For example, records show 3,794 such out-of-state teachers were attracted to Michigan in 1965-66 while 4,872 were attracted in 1968-69. Also adding to the available teacher force have been the financial squeeze on local school districts, which has forced some administrators back into the classroom. There is also an apparent decline in non-teaching opportunities for prospective or former teachers.

"Several college and university placement officers report difficulty in placing their spring graduates," Oppewall said.

"It is entirely possible that several hundred spring and summer graduates will not find teaching positions for the 1970-71 school year. With an opportunity to be more selective, employers are tending to place a greater emphasis on grade point averages and the nature of the experience reports from former employment and/or student teaching," he said.

Additionally, Oppewall noted, Michigan certification code changes have an effect on the teacher oversupply.

Commissioners Appoint Juvenile Study Group

An advisory committee of top Wayne County officials is envisioned to guide the planning and design of Wayne County's second juvenile court facility.

The Planning and Capital Improvement Committee of the County Board of Commissioners has recommended that the board establish the committee.

"We believe this will be one of the most carefully thought-out youth facilities ever established," said Commissioner John Lesinski, of Dearborn, D-District 20, Planning and Capital Improvement Committee chairman.

The Board of Commissioners has received an $89,500 Federal grant to help finance planning and design.

"In general, we know we want a facility in the rapidly-growing area west of Detroit," Lesinski said. "The most likely site is on county-owned land across Michigan Avenue from Wayne

"Several thousand persons have been employed in Michigan classrooms under the temporary permit provisions for long periods of time," he said. "The certification code, of course, requires that districts employ such persons only when certificated persons are not available."

County General Hospital in Westland.

"We also know that we want a facility that will house juvenile court hearing rooms, offices for probation officers, detention quarters and a short-term rehabilitation facility. The rehabilitation program is needed badly because it takes many months to get a youngster into the state training school."

The present Youth Home, located on Detroit's east side, is so overcrowded that as many as 100 youngsters sleep on mattresses laid on floors. There is no full-scale rehabilitation program.

Lesinski said the Federal grant will enable the planners to study rehabilitation facilities for juvenile delinquents in other states, such as California which is considered to have one of the best programs.

The advisory committee recommended by the Planning and Capital Improvement Committee would have Lesinski and Juvenile Court Judge James H. Lincoln as co-chairmen.

"Therefore, a predictable competition occurs between persons with provisional or permanent certificates and persons who have been employed for various periods of time under the permit provisions."

Oppewall pointed out that persons employed under permits were notified individually in 1967 that changes in the certification code to take effect Sept. 1, would require them to take additional college courses to meet increased permit requirements.

"It can be predicted, however, that many, many persons will have failed to heed that warning," Oppewall said.

"This is particularly true in view of the teacher shortage that has been a fact in Michigan for a long period — about a quarter of the century. While the certification code rules have always been very clear in providing that fully certificated persons be employed in preference to permit holders, there has not been a real test of intent in the past," he said.

"Michigan employers of teachers have long sought the freedom to be selective by retaining only the most competent and most qualified members of their teaching faculties," Oppewall said.

"Basically, the opportunity for employing officials to be selective for both initial employment and for retention is desirable since it creates a circumstance where only the best persons will be retained in the profession," he said.

"It is essential, however, that not only those in the educational world but also that all other Michigan citizens be aware of the basic change in the employer-employee situation regarding teachers and school districts which will prevail this fall for the first time almost in memory.

"The State Board of Education will be working with the educational community and the general public not only to produce understanding of the facts, but also to provide an educational climate in which the best interests of the school children are served," Oppewall said.

Inkster's Womack Temple Reflects On History

A week long series of special services was culminated July 12 when Inkster's Womack Temple C.M.E. Church associates and members observed the 43rd anniversary of the foundation of the church.

Highlighting the 11 a.m. services at the church, located at 28445 Cherry Street, at Harriet, was the presence of members of the State Senate, local civic leaders and community leaders who joined forces in presenting the main issues that affect us as citizens.

The guest speaker was Senator Sander M. Levin, currently a candidate for governor on the Democratic ticket. He was introduced by William E. Clark, member of the Inkster Board of Education. Hiram A. McNeeley served as master of ceremonies. Rounding out the program was pulpit guest, Rev. Donald Polk, and State Senator William Faust of the 13th District... in the wheelchair that has gained him the nickname 'Ole Ironsides' in Lansing.

Music for the program was furnished under the combined directorship of Andrew Lester, who is senior choir director and minister of music at Womack, and by Marvin Bonner, director of the church's youth choir.

Progressive steps made as a Christian Methodist Episcopal Church, and the notable sequences occurring after its establishment as a religious organization, while bringing 43 years of spiritual enrichment to the community of Inkster was outlined by Rev. James A. Hill, Sr., current Womack Temple pastor. He also gave recognition to church charter members whose initial efforts brought the church into being, and provided inspiration along the 43-year-long highway of life.

Absent momentarily at introduction time was Harvey C. Wilson, program chairman... who was elsewhere counting church funds; and Richard Humphrey, a long-time faithful member.

Wilson, as Exalted Ruler of Inkster's Golden Gate Lodge No. 973 has been responsible for many educational and cultural projects in both the church and the community. Humphrey was commended for his performances in church leadership, and work record along the school-community level. Both he and Wilson are members of the Womack-Senior Choir.

Among those in the audience were William B. Anderson, Westland councilman; Mr. and Mrs. D. Pulaski; Tommy Watkins, Diggs Chapel of the Chimes associate; Controversial black writer and poet Janette Deantignac-Bey, illustrator of the coming magazine "Inkster Community Scrapbook".

Others present included Councilman Mrs. Justine Barns of Westland, and her family; program general chairman Mrs. Ethel Mack, who also serves as president of the Stewardess board, Polly Thomas, Missionary Society president; Rev. Myrtle Morgan, assistant pastor of Womack... and church historian; Willie Watkins; Mrs. Chestine Reeves, president of the Detroit District Missionary Department, and Mrs. Mary McNeeley... all of whom worked with program details.

Other successful contributions to the 43rd anniversary in the capacity of committees were made by Booker Dozier, of the Inkster Recreation Department in his role as publicity chairman Mrs. Dorothy Riley and Lyndon Johnson, refreshment committee heads; Finance committee, Lawrence Verdun, Sr., Ellis Britton, Arthur Thomas and Willie Riley; Mrs. Eva Thomas, hostess director, hostesses: Ola Ree Williams and Mrs. Elmyra Thurston.

Rev. Hill and his wife, Ernestine reside at 3118 Ash, in the church parsonage, and have two children, Fannie Mae, 7 and James Albert, 3. For the past three years that Womack has held his pastorship Rev. Hill has been a familiar figure at functions involving the citizenry of Inkster and has served in many capacities. Somewhat like a human measure of balance or weight, his presence as a neutral medium at events pertaining to inter-community racial relations has been a major ingredient resulting in calmness between races.

From a starting point that began with his birth in Chicago, and consequential graduation from elementary and secondary schools there, came his later graduation from the Chicago Baptist Institute; the American Bible and Divinity College; the Black-Stone School of Law; receiving the Bachelor of Theology degrees in Chicago.

Along the way, Rev. Hill served with the U.S. Medical Corps as a Licensed Practical Nurse, in caring for servicemen. Additional studies at the Central Y.M.C.A. College; the University of Chicago; plus other levels of achievement obtained in the School of Mental Health saw him earn the Bachelor of Divinity degree from the Clarksville School of Theology; the Doctor of Divinity degree from the University of Alaska; collecting many awards, certificates and plaques for outstanding services performed in these fields. Efforts he has worked with in Inkster of recent note include the Civil Liberties and Educational Department of the I.B.P.O.E. of W.; the Inkster Ministerial Alliance; the Boy Scouts of America; and the Wayne County Y.W.C.A. Rev. Hill is presently working towards his Master of Arts degree at the University of Detroit. The Rt. Rev. J. Claude Allen, of Gary Indiana is Presiding Bishop of Womack Temple. Rev. James W. Jenkins of Detroit is Presiding Elder.

'Open Letter To A Man' Puts Women In Perspective

In this era of preoccupation with sex and nudity under the guise of freedom of expression, a simple letter written to man about the image of womanhood is creating a lot of interest throughout the country.

Some radio personalities have read it repeatedly on their radio programs. Newspapers and magazines, both religious and secular, are reprinting it. And private citizens are copying it for distribution to their friends.

This is what "Open Letter to Man" says:

"I am a Woman.

"I am your wife, your sweetheart, your mother, your daughter, your sister...your friend.

"I was created to give to the world gentleness, understanding, serenity, beauty and love. I am finding it increasingly difficult to fulfill my purpose.

"Many people in advertising, motion pictures, television and radio have ignored my inner qualities and have repeatedly used me only as a symbol of sex.

"This humiliates me; it destroys my dignity; it prevents me from being what you want me to be — an example of:

"Beauty, inspiration and love —

"Love for my children, love for my husband, love of my God and country.

"I need your help to restore me to my true position... to allow me to fulfill the purpose for which I was created.

"I know you will find a way."

This letter was written about ten years ago by songwriter Sy Miller and his wife, the former actress, Jill Jackson. But it wasn't until "Open Letter to Man" was discovered shortly over a year ago by the Rev. Francis J. Caffrey of the Maryknoll Fathers that it received widespread circulation.

Father Caffrey was so impressed with the letter that he got the Millers' permission to reproduce it. From that humble grass roots beginning, "Open Letter to Man" has developed its own quiet underground movement protesting the degradation of women as mere sex objects.

Many prominent businessmen and entertainment personalities have assisted Father Caffrey in his efforts to help restore woman's proper image of love, beauty and dignity in our contemporary society.

The "Open Letter" has been reproduced and circulated widely in the U.S., in some foreign countries and is on its way to expanding its message of common decency throughout the world.

"Open Letter to Man" is a simple, powerful message challenging today's animalistic, sex-oriented image of womanhood.

It's difficult today for a girl or young woman to believe anyone really cares about morality, femininity and virtue in our society. But the challenge is simply stated for all to meet, "I know you will find a way."

The invitation to help find the way is open to all. Copies of the "Open Letter" are available free of charge.

Simply send your name and address, plus the number of copies desired to: Open Letter. The Solo Cup Foundation, 7431 East End Chicago, Illinois 60649. A supply of the Open Letter will be sent free of charge to be passed along to friends and acquaintances.

In addition, a free recording of "Let there be peace", composed by Sy Miller and Jill Jackson and performed by Dora Hall, will be included.

Michigan District Names New Lutheran President

The Rev. Richard L. Schlecht, pastor of St. John Lutheran Church, Rochester, and president of the Michigan District of The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, was returned to office for his first full term after a first ballot victory over four other candidates in the biennial convention at Ann Arbor week.

The Rev. Schlecht was chosen from a list of candidates which included former district president, the Rev. Dr. W. Harry Krieger, the Revs. Edward A. Wescott, Jr., and Edward Hessler, vice-presidents, and the Rev. Paul Heinecke, Executive Secretary of Missions.

Schlecht inherited the office in July, 1969, when the Rev. Dr. Edwin C. Weber, then president, was elected to the vice-presidency of The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

The Rev. Mr. Schlecht indicated to the convention that he hadn't prepared an acceptance speech; however, he thanked the delegates for placing their confidence in him.

Accepting the convention's action will require that he leave his parish ministry. The convention made this mandatory by adopting a resolution calling for the office of president to be a full-time position.

President and Mrs. Schlecht are expected to take up residence in the Ann Arbor area in the near future.

Planning Services Prepare Clinic

Family Planning Services will soon be delivered to hundreds of women in six out-of-county Wayne communities including: Ecorse, Wyandotte, Brownstown, Huron, Romulus, and Canton Township.

A Mobile Family Planning Unit sponsored by the Wayne County Office of Economic Opportunity will begin its operation, in mid-August, bringing family planning services closer to the people who live in isolated communities unable to utilize existing family planning facilities, due to lack of transportation.

Services provided, other than educational, will be to only those patients who voluntarily request medical supervision or supplies, and who meet the income eligibility established for poverty areas served by Wayne County OEO Neighborhood Action Centers.

A concentrated education program on health and family planning methods have been conducted in the six communities, and will continue as an on-going phase of the Family Planning Program.

All contraceptive methods offered are approved by the Federal Food and Drug Administration, and are free without charge. Other services offered are blood test for anemia, blood pressure test, pap test for cancer, physical examination, medical counseling, and referral services.

The mobile clinic will be operated by a full-time medical professional staff experienced in the field of family planning.

For clinic appointments or for additional information, write or call: Mrs. JoAnn Tolliver, Director, Wayne County Office of Economic Opportunity Family Planning Project, Building "C", Eloise, Michigan 48132, 722-2410 or 722-2411.

Faith Is Subject

The symbolism and allegories of the Bible are helpful in conveying spiritual truths that cannot be understood in material terms, according to the Lesson-Sermon on "Spirit," to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, August 9.

An explanation of unseen spiritual power offered by Christ Jesus to Nicodemus and included in the Lesson-Sermon states, "The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is everyone that is born of the Spirit."

One of the accompanying passages from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, reads: "Spirit blesses man, but man cannot tell whence it cometh. By it the sick are healed, the sorrowing are comforted, and the sinning are reformed. These are the efforts of one universal God, the invisible good dwelling in eternal science."

'Of Mice And Men' Leaves Strong Message

By HOWARD ALLEN
Panax Amusement Critic

In some respects it might be assumed that the works of John Steinbeck are becoming period pieces. One thinks of the Okie migration and the pathetic attempts for survival from the grinding poverty of the depression as almost as remote as a Sheridan comedy of manners.

Not so. Reflections on "Of Mice and Men," staged by the University of Michigan Players at the Lydia Mendelssohn Theatre, Ann Arbor, point up a mood, a desperate atmosphere which, although it may spring from the opposite end of the affluence continuum, is certainly in the air today.

At first glance it would seem that the manual agricultural laborers, George and Lennie, Steinbeck's protagonists, are the dregs of society. Lennie, of course, is mentally retarded, a hulking giant with a eight-year-old's mind who gets along only by the skin of George's wits. Not knowing his own strength he manages to kill most of the animals he attempts to pet leading to the final tragic murder.

But George and Lennie have one thing which set far above the bitter and mean men they work with. They have each other and they care for each other, and this is enough despite all the abortive dreams which will never come true. Thus, the crushing climax when George kills Lennie to save him from a more merciless fate, finds the survivor, George, as the real victim—now he has nothing.

These days, when works like alienation are fashionable, it may be noted that Steinbeck said it all.

U-M is again using a generalized set for their entire summer which does not become the intensely realistic "Of Mice and Men," but this is about the only flaw in James Coakley's exceptional production. Too much can not be said about the lead performances of Mark Metcalf as George and R. Ronald Beebe as Lennie, both unusually difficult roles handled more than competently, from the gentle nuances of George's accent to the vacant and broad expression of Lennie's face.

Peter Nichols' unusual work, "Joe Egg," has opened the upstairs repertory of Wayne State University's Hilberry Classic Theatre summer season. It is a striking study of a marriage disintegrating under the pressure of coping with a spastic, retarded child who, in effect, is a virtual vegetable.

"Joe Egg," a not completely fond nickname for the girl, could be wholly depressing were it not for an epic theatre attempt to distract the audience and shatter the mood with a torrent of humor and music as Joe's parents seek to explain how they found out about Joe and sought to cope with it.

The result is curiously experimental in flavor but is probably as sound a technique as any for putting across the despair of Bri and Sheila, Joe's parents, without driving the audience into the night gasping for air. The epic presentation probably does not allow for quite so many shifts of tempo, but the performances of Woody Eney and Trina Cluffo as the parents, and Annetta

Wellman as Joe, are, on the whole, successful.

Sheila retreats to a world of hopeless optimism while Bri, still a mama's boy, becomes more and more trapped. It is in this unrewarding atmosphere that the music hall turns and imitations—including a deadly one of a pediatrician—are set.

Most of the young film makers seem wholly to lack discipline which they, I suppose, would regard as a virtue. A case in point is Stuart Hagmann, whose "Strawberry Statement," Fairlane, describes the evolution of a student collegiate takeover which bears a striking resemblance to what happened at Columbia University, although ostensibly set in a fictional San Francisco college.

Hagmann, in the current fashion, plays with his camera like a child with a Christmas toy, but blinding speed and tricky angels do not compensate for a virtually plotless film which could be cut a half hour without anybody knowing that anything is missing.

The students here are seeking to prevent some college-owned land, now a playground for neighborhood slum children, from being turned over to the ROTC. They first take over the president's office and, two hours later, wind up with the final, brutal, sadistic, bloody confrontation with the police who gas them, club them, crush them and clear them out.

In between we are offered a few days in the life of Bruce Davison, a casual radical, and his off and on romance with a dedicated radical Kim Darby.

Ah well. Up the revolution.

'Blithe Spirit' To Open For Windsor Summer Run

"Blithe Spirit", Noel Coward's comedy success about galloping ghosts, will open at the Theatre Centre in Windsor starting August 4, as the last presentation in the season of comedies. This laugh hit, which the N.Y. Herald-Tribune critic described during its successful Broadway run as "a gay, bright and brilliant farce," will continue nightly except Mondays through August 16.

The witty Coward frolics with the supernatural in "Blithe Spirit", which audiences and critics alike agree is the gayest and zaniest of his plays.

Charles Condomine, the comedy's novelist hero is a skeptic at a seance conducted by an eccentric medium. His doubts are punished by a ghost in his home, the troublesome shade of Elvira, his first wife. Ruth, the living wife, already resentful of Elvira's superior charms, is infuriated by the spirit's presence.

Disembodied or not, Elvira must get out. Charles agrees heartily, but the medium who invoked her, miffed by Ruth's tactless remarks, refuses to banish the intruder.

The minx, Elvira, is delighted with the row she has raised. But not even a ghost is spared a wife's fury. Coward transports his story to an even sprightlier lunacy with a situation which puts Ruth on even terms of combat with the invisible Elvira, leaving the constantly perplexed Charles with two ghosts on his hands.

In the Theatre Centre's presentation of "Blithe Spirit," Marie Romain Aloma and Victoria Mitchell are playing the roles of the first and second Mrs. Condomine, and the believing and unbelieving husband Charles is being portrayed by John Cutts. As the wild-eyed psychic, Mme. Arcati, Diana Mady will be seen, and other roles have been assigned for John McKerral, Donna Farron and Zena Behan Nazwaski.

Sediment Worsens Pollution Woes

WAYNE — Sediment, a product of soil erosion, is a major water pollutant and is a prime contributor to declining water quality throughout the nation, Daniel F. Kesselring, District Conservationist, U.S. Soil Conservation Service, said this week.

Sediment is often produced when heavy rain and storm runoff hits bare and unprotected soil areas to cause sheet erosion and start gullies. This condition is commonly thought to occur only on agricultural land, and soil erosion is commonly thought to be a problem of agriculture, he said.

However, a study done in 1968 shows that the Detroit Metropolitan Area alone produced more than 1.1 million tons of sediment that year.

The study, done by J.R. Thompson, geologist of the Soil Conservation Service, and recently published in the "Journal of Soil and Water Conservation," also shows that the Southeast Michigan Region produces an average of 2.6 tons of sediment per acre per year.

"But the real eye opener in this study is that 2.1 per cent of the urban land area produces as much sediment as the other 97.9 per cent of the entire urban land area in the Detroit Metropolitan Area.

"This 2.1 per cent is land that is undergoing development for housing, factories, shopping centers, highways, etc. Land in development was found to be producing sediment at an average rate of almost 70 tons per acre per year.

This is 23 times the rate of sediment yield from the remaining urban area, and about 26 times the rate for the entire Southeast Michigan Region", said Kesselring.

"This land area, that we call the urban fringe, is being bulldozed, denuded of all vegetation and left bare for anywhere from six months to three years or more while construction is going on. The soil, that has been scraped, mixed and packed, is in prime condition to start eroding with the first rain," he said.

"When that rain comes the soil begins to wash away and enter storm drains, streams, rivers and lakes where it becomes sediment. Take a look at almost any stream or drain in Wayne County next time its rains — that brown color you see is sediment.

"Sediment can cause damage by filling storm drains and ditches causing them to flood more frequently; by blanketing fish spawning beds causing failures in fish reproduction; by clouding water so that sunlight cannot get through to keep microscopic aquatic plants and animals alive, thus breaking the food chain so important to game fish; and in many other ways", said Kesselring.

Kesselring, who is the Soil Conservation Service representative in Wayne County, gave some tips on stopping soil erosion in developing areas;

1. Only the smallest practical area of land should be exposed at any one time during development.

2. When land is exposed during development, the exposure should be kept to the shortest practical period of time

3. Temporary vegetation and/or mulching should be used to protect critical areas exposed during development.

4. Sediment removing basins should be installed and maintained to remove sediment from run-off waters from land undergoing development.

5. Provisions should be made to handle the increased runoff caused by changed soil and surface conditions during and after development.

6. The permanent final vegetation and structures should be installed as soon as practical in the development.

7. The development plan should be fitted to the topography and soils so as to create the least erosion potential.

8. Wherever feasible, natural vegetation should be retained and protected.

For those who are interested in further information, contact the Soil Conservation Service, Box 642, Wayne, Michigan 48184 for bulletins and other information on soil erosion and sediment control.

Parking Lot Causes Stir

WESTLAND — A communication about George Sanders' property on Wayne Rd. caused a bit of a stir in the city council chambers, Monday night.

Sanders wishes to build an antique used car lot on Wayne Rd., and had to wait for City Engineer, Jack Cain's, recommendation on the property.

The engineer recommended that the property either be paved with an asphalt surface with a dry well behind it for water run off, or a gravel surface in face of the property's temporary usage, although the gravel surface is not up to city standards.

The engineer said that the dry well would be needed because Wayne Rd. on the east and Arthur Ave. on the west of the property cannot take the added rain run off from the parking lot.

The council wondered why the property is slated for a "temporary" use, and why the engineer would allow Sanders to construct a gravel parking lot.

The engineer said that the gravel parking lot, though substandard, would be cheaper for the developer.

"I may sell the property tomorrow," said Sanders, "or it may be in three or four years."

The council said that they would rather see the closer to standard, and more expensive parking lot be approved.

"I don't see why I should be penalized by paying for a more expensive parking lot because city facilities cannot handle any water running off my property," protested Saunders.

Other parking lots in the area have asphalt and a dry well.

The council accepted the engineers report, but took no action to approve the used car lot.

Suburban Home Drainage Takes Special Measures

Among the more serious conservation problems around the suburban home are surplus water management and disturbed soils, according to Daniel F. Kesselring, District Conservationist of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service. Land that may never have had soil and water conservation problems when in its native state can well be plagued with them when converted to suburban uses, Kesselring says.

"Rain that once fell on open land now falls on roof tops, driveways, and paved streets. Even the best land can be jeopardized by uncontrolled water runoff. It can quickly rob areas of valuable surface soil, smother green lawns with silt deposits, flood homes and basements, and cut jagged scars in steep slopes and drainageways," he said.

Kesselring explains that water runoff isn't all that is troublesome. During construction, the nature of the soil around the home may have been changed

"To control runoff, be sure that the soil is shaped so that water drains away from the house, and that low areas are filled. Excess water from adjacent properties can be diverted away from the home by the construction of small diversions and terraces," Kesselring suggests.

"Erosion can be prevented by covering the ground as completely as possible with growing vegetation or with some substitute cover like mulch, burlap, flagstones, or gravel. Areas that must carry heavy runoff need to be permanently paved or protected by special turfs, riprap, or other means," he said.

Kesselring explains that water runoff isn't all that is troublesome. During construction, the nature of the soil around the home may have been changed drastically. The surface layer of the ideal soil has a deep layer of loamy, or crumbly, material that contains a rich mixture of decomposing organic matter.

"But the surface soil in the average subdivision is usually less than ideal," he said. "The original soil may have been scraped off, or mixed with and buried under clayey or sandy subsoil when the land was excavated and graded. Tar paper, wood scraps, siding, brick, plaster and other materials that limit plant growth are often found just under the surface of the soil."

When locating sites for shrubs and trees, it is a good idea to dig a much larger hole than necessary to check for buried debris. At the same time the soil can be checked for root penetration and permeability.

Permeability can be determined by filling the hole with water. It should all disappear within 24 hours.

In some cases it may be necessary to refill the hole with good quality soil that is in good physical condition and is fertile.

Soil can be improved by mixing peat moss, compost, or other organic material with it and by adding plant food based on accurate soil tests. For example, azaleas need an acid soil and roses a nearly neutral one.

A bulletin published by the U.S. Soil Conservation Service called "Soil Conservation at Home — Tips for City and Suburban Dwellers" contains more information on solving soil and water conservation problems. To get this bulletin write: Soil Conservation Service, Box 642, Wayne, Michigan 48184.

U-D Registration Set To Begin

Any man or woman thinking about working towards a college degree at night at the University of Detroit will have lots of company when classes start there September 3.

It is anticipated that 3,000 students, ranging in age from 20-60, will enroll in courses offered by the College of Arts and Sciences on the McNichols Road campus and the Evening College of Business and Administration on the downtown campus. Evening course selections are available for practically all undergraduate majors.

Students who have a high school diploma and are over 21 years of age, can be admitted as unclassified students for 12 semester hours, if their high school marks have been a barrier to college admittance in the past. Any courses taken will count towards a degree and their unclassified status will be reviewed at the end of the 12 hours.

Nurses who have graduated from diploma or associate degree programs will be given junior standing and 64 hours credit towards a bachelor of arts degree.

Further information on registering for evening classes at U. of D. can be obtained by phoning Mrs. Ann Mikus or Dean James P. Glispin at 342-1000, ext. 276.

Information on enrolling in the Evening College of Business and Administration can be obtained by calling Dean Howard Ward at 342-1000, ext. 501.

Final registration days are August 31, September 1, and 2, but phone now to make arrangements for pre-registration. Classes begin September 3.

Cornhusking Champion To Defend His Title

Last year's Garden City cornhusking champion, Eugene Morrison of 30630 Bradford Lane, will defend his title Saturday Aug. 22, at the Fulcrum Club's third annual Chicken and Corn Roast at the Garden City Park.

The club provides aid to charitable organizations primarily for handicapped children.

The Corn Husking Contest will begin at noon.

Morrison said he had beat out "about 25 or 30" other contestants in husking five dozen ears of corn last year.

He said he doesn't remember his winning time.

"I hope to win again this year," he said. He admitted that he did not undergo any preparation for the event.

"I just get in there and do the best I can," he said.

If Morrison wins he will keep his small gold cup inscribed "Champion Corn Husker". "If I lose I'll have to pass it on," he said.

A chicken dinner will be served from 3 to 8 p.m. to a background of country music. Square dancing will follow with professional caller Ed Russell from Walled Lake calling the steps.

Tickets are $2.50 for adults and $1 for children 12 and under and may be obtained at the Roast or by calling Robert Jones at 422-6562.

Board Bypasses Upton's Appeal

LIVONIA — The School board took no action Monday on a recommendation of the superintendent and the business administrator to approve a secretarial career advancement program.

The program was developed by the joint Livonia Education Secretaries Association (LESA) and the Administration Career Advancement Committee.

Under the program the school district would pay tuition at Schoolcraft College for up to 21 hours or business courses for school secretaries.

The contract between the LESA and the school board states that "the board shall work cooperatively with employees in planning a program to meet in service training needs...to begin no later than Sept. 1, 1970."

Although the item was on the agenda and the board went into executive session to discuss the matter, the meeting was adjourned without any action having been taken on the subject.

Council Approves Computer Rental

WESTLAND — City Hall will be able to establish a data processing center with an IBM 360-20 computer by December of this year, after the city council voted 6-0 to rent the system.

Finance Director Leonard Bartos' recommendation said that the IBM system was well suited and within the $1750 per month rental approved in the 1970-71 budget, and that the computer system was designed for the initial user.

His recommendation also added that the system could add close to 5 million characters "which is more than suitable for the city's needs in the foreseeable future", and that the system is so designed to allow for expansion to a more sophisticated use.

His recommendation stated that the rental on the system would be $1620 per month, or a total of $19,440 per year to the city.

After the council's approval, Council President Charles Melhargy added that the computer was included in the fiscal 1970-71 budget.

Champ Earns Fourth Crown

GARDEN CITY — Making it four years in a row, Bill Montgomery, 30904 Florence St., captured the championship of the Garden City Parks and Recreation Department's annual horseshoe pitching contest.

Under the direction of recreation supervisor Jerry Heaton, several Garden City horseshoe fans met at the city park Saturday for preliminary competition and again on Sunday for the finals.

Placing second in this year's competition was Jim Burgett, 31505 Marquette St.

Firemen Battle Afternoon Blaze

WESTLAND — Eighteen Westland firefighters contained a blaze in a storage area at 2:40 pm Saturday preventing the fire from damaging a home at 35641 Joy Rd.

The storage shed and pony barn attached to the home of Theodore Jarvis was apparently the target of juveniles. Several youngsters were seen fleeing the area minutes before neighbors reported seeing smoke.

Jarvis was not home at the time.

Damage to the structure and its contents was estimated at $2500.

Police and fire officials are also investigating the possibility of arson in a fire which destroyed two large trailers in a field west of Henry Ruff Rd. near Julius Blvd., Westland.

The fire occurred at 2:20 am on Monday. Lt. Joseph Benyo of Westland told police the doors of one vehicle had been opened prior to the start of the blaze. This was determined via an examination of the paint condition on the door and trailer surfaces.

The owner of the trailer and its contents are not known at this time.

Michigan May Float Bonds For Mental Health

LANSING — Michigan will be asked to float a $60 million bond issue to recover from 20 years of neglect in building hospitals for mentally retarded children.

The program includes six 650-bed institutions each costing $10 million.

Dr. E. Gordon Yudashkin, director of mental health, said three will go into Wayne County, one in Kalamazoo, Macomb and one in the Flint area.

He said one of the Wayne County institutions will be built in Taylor, confirming the state has an option on an undisclosed site on Telegraph Rd.

"We would plan to shut down Fort Custer by 1974 and hopefully before, and shut down as much of Lapeer State Home and Training School as possible," Yudashkin said.

"In Wayne County, we wanted to put three inside Detroit where the major problem exists but there is a shortage of sites. We'll plan one in Wayne County and one other outside Detroit."

The major issue, he said, is not the support of the legislature and Gov. Milliken, but is the professional and public controversy over the regional approach.

Resistance has developed to closing Fort Custer, near Battle Creek, and shifting the caseload to Kalamazoo, and professionals in the field want smaller and more units than 650 beds.

Yudashkin said 5,000 of the 11,844 beds occupied as of June 30 in mental retardation facilities are inadequate. He said remodeling could salvage 2,910.

He said the major problems are:

Gaining public acceptance

for keeping the mentally retarded in smaller units.

Developing staff to direct expanded services in the field of mental retardation.

Establishing coordinated approaches on the local level, particularly with schools to furnish some educational services.

Developing services and programs for the mentally retarded that can be financed jointly by state and local funding.

"We have to catch up to what we should have been doing for the past 20 years," Yudashkin said. "Perhaps it will require a state bond issue."

Legislative finance leaders said the bond issue idea is the only feasible route at this time to finance a program the size Yudashkin proposes.

"Facilities in many cases are inadequate and we have a high waiting list," Yudashkin said. "At this time we have the support of the government—the governor and the legislature—but unfortunately the professionals are bickering over which way to go."

The last major effort in the field was a $65 million bond issue in the early 1950s, $5 million of which was siphoned off for tuberculosis hospitals.

During the crisis in the field in the mid-1950s, the state took over Fort Custer as a temporary answer.

Yudashkin's survey of facilities in June showed that more than half of the beds allotted to mentally retarded children were inadequate.

"We cannot, must not, permit this situation to continue," he said.

"Our proposals to do something about it have received support of the governor and the legislature, and we are actively seeking the support of the public at large."

District Roundtables Set For Scout Leaders

District Roundtables for adult leaders working with local Cub Scout, Boy Scout and Explorer Units will be held in August and will feature program planning for the fall and winter months.

The Roundtable for the Sauk Trail District is set for 7:30 p.m., Thursday, Aug.

13, at Cherry Hill Presbyterian Church, Cherry Hill and Telegraph Rds.

For the Huron District, the Roundtable is slated for 7:30 p.m., Thursday, Aug. 20, at Romulus Senior High School, located on one-quarter mile north of the I-94 Expressway.

On the same night, the Sunset District will hold its Roundtable at 7:30 p.m. at Grant School, 7479 Stockton, Livonia.

Members of District Commissioners Staff and District Committees will be on hand to help unit leaders and other adult representatives plan a meaningful program for the boys in their units.

A program kit available to every Cub Scout Pack, Boy Scout Troop and Explorer Unit will be distributed. A calendar of District and Council events, details of camping, activities and training events, round-up materials and other items of interest to leaders will be included.
